PARTICULARS OF CLAIM

I. INTRODUCTION

1. The Claimant (the "University") is a Russell Group university with a global reputation. The University was granted Royal Charter in 1884, having previously been the University College of South Wales and Monmouthshire. This was subsequently one of the founding institutions of the University of Wales in 1893. Following a series of mergers, the University was named Cardiff University in 1999, and was granted a Supplemental Charter in 2004. The University currently has over 33,000 students and employs over 6,900 staff.

2. The University's main campus is the Cathays Park Campus ("the Campus") situated in Cardiff City Centre. The Campus is home to many of the University's buildings as well as being the focal point for important events in the University calendar such as Graduation.

3. The First Defendants are comprised of Persons Unknown, who are currently engaged in an unauthorised occupational encampment set up on land forming part of the University's Cathays Park Campus. The First Defendants are protesting in relation to the Israel-Palestine conflict and the University's alleged complicity in the actions of the Israeli Defence Force. The University has been unable to identify the names or addresses of any of these individuals as they have been deliberately concealing their identities, but many of them appear to form part of a group calling themselves 'Caerdydd Students for Palestine'.

4. The Instagram account of the group known as 'Caerdydd Students for Palestine' describes themselves as: "A coalition of students from universities in Cardiff standing against our institutions' complicity in genocide". Their methods involve protests in the form of direct action which is targeted at the University. This has included unauthorised occupation of land and buildings belonging to the University, blocking, obstructing or interfering with access to the University's land and buildings, and taking over land by setting up structures.

5. The Second Defendants are comprised of Persons Unknown, who may, in the future, for the purpose of protest: (i) enter, occupy or remain upon; (ii) block, obstruct or interfere with access to; or (iii) erect any structure (including tents, gazabos or sleeping equpment), upon certain vulnerable sites forming part of the University's land, without consent.

II. THE LAND

6. The land in respect of which the University seeks an order for possession is shown for identification purposes edged red on the attached plan marked 'Plan 1'. This includes:

   6.1 Main Building, Park Place, Cardiff CF10 3AT (the "Main Building"), including the area of green space located at the rear of Main Building known as "Horseshoe Drive" – The Main Building is often referred to as the centre of the Campus. It is the University's flagship building and houses the Vice Chancellor's office and key administrative functions. It is a Grade II listed building which hosts conferences and exhibitions space, teaching and research facilities, a lecture theatre and science theatre. Horseshoe Drive is the usual site of the University Graduation Celebrations.

6.2 Glamorgan Building, King Edward VII Avenue, Cardiff CF10 3WT (the "Glamorgan Building") – The Glamorgan Building is a Grade I listed building which hosts the University's School of Social Sciences. It also includes a formal Council Chamber and two Committee Rooms, which are used for various events and social occasions. These are ornate rooms and have some valuable artwork displayed.

6.3 Bute Building, King Edward VII Avenue, Cardiff, CF10 3NB (the "Bute Building"), including the car parking area located between Bute Building and Glamorgan Building – The Bute Building is a Grade II listed building which hosts the University's Welsh School of Architecture. It houses the UK's largest Sky Dome, which is used for sun-path studies and modelling daylight for architectural purposes.

6.4 Centre for Student Life, Park Place, Cathays, Cardiff CF10 3BB (the "Centre for Student Life") – A landmark facility designed to engage the student experience by centralising support services and providing modern learning and social space. This is located across the road from Main Building and is at the heart of the Campus. It is the venue that graduates attend on arrival at their Graduation Ceremony for gowning.

7. The land in respect of which precautionary injunctive relief is sought is shown for identification purposes edged blue on the attached plan marked 'Plan 2'. This includes:

7.1 The land and buildings particularised at paragraph 6 above.

7.2 Sir Martin Evans Building, Cardiff, CF10 3AX (the "Sir Martin Evans Building") – A series of prominent University buildings, the title of which includes the Cardiff School of Biosciences, the School of Psychology, Tower Building and Law Building. 7.3 50-51 Park Place, Cardiff CF10 3LU/CF10 3AT ("50-51 Park Place") – A University property that host examinations. 50-51 Park Plan is open to the public and is situated in close proximity to the Centre for Student Life.

7.4 Music Building, 31 Corbett Road, Cathays, CF10 3EB (the "Music Building") - This building is open to the public and there is a high value statute on the lawn outside.

7.5 Abacws, Senghennydd Road, Cardiff, CF24 4AG (the "Abacws Building") – This houses the University's School of Computer Science and Informatics. This building is openly accessible and has close ties with Airbus' Centre of Excellence.

7.6 Trevithick Building, Newport Road, Cardiff, CF24 3AA (the "Trevithick Building") – A library and information hub for engineering, physics and astronomy.

7.7 Queen's Buildings, 5 The Parade, Newport Road, Cardiff, CF24 3AA (the "Queens' Buildings") – These buildings house the University's School of Engineering which has close research links with a number of entities that the occupants of the unauthorised encampment are demanding that the University divest from.

7.8 Spark, Maindy Road, Cardiff CF24 4HQ ("Spark") – This hosts the University's Social Science Research Park, and has been a target for direct action protest.

8. In summary, the University seeks:

IV. THE UNIVERSITY'S REGULATIONS

15. When students accept a place to study at the University, they enter into a contract with the University agreeing to comply with the provisions of the Charter, Statutes, Ordinances and Regulations (together the "Regulations"). This includes the Student Conduct Procedure.

16. Under section 2 of the Student Conduct Procedure, students are expected, inter alia, to:

- Treat other people with dignity and respect:…
  - Act responsibly, and be honest, considerate, respectful, and courteous towards others, respecting the safety and wellbeing of others on or off University premises.
  - Behave in a respectful manner towards others so that they do not feel that they are being harassed or bullied.
  - Behave in such a way as to ensure you do not disrupt University activities or obstruct any student, member of staff, or visitor of the University in the performance of their study or work.
  - Ensure that you do not publish comments or images on websites or social media that might cause distress or offence to another person.
  - Respect other people's right to enjoyment of their property, including that of the University and the Students' Union, or use of a public space.
- Act in accordance with the University's regulations and policies, which you agree to at each registration as a student with the University…

17. In recognition of its duty under section 43 of the Education (No 2) Act 1986 to take such steps as are reasonably practicable to ensure freedom of speech in accordance with the law is secured for its members, students, employees and visiting speakers, the University has implemented a Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech (the "Code"), which all students and members of the University are required to adhere to. This contains a procedure for organising events on premises managed by the University or the Student's Union and requires notification to be provided in advance to enable a risk assessment to be undertaken.

V. DIRECT ACTION INVOLVING TRESPASS AND NUISANCE

18. The University's Land has been the subject of repeated acts of trespass and nuisance causing disruption to the University community and activities by individuals undertaking direct action concerning the Israel-Palestine conflict. This includes, but is not limited to:

18.1 On 14 November 2023, a number of persons unknown held a pro-Palestinian protest inside the University's John Percival building, where a politician, Natasha Ashgar, was speaking to the Student Union Society in Room 3.46. Approximately 40 protestors congregated outside the room, whilst chanting and banging on the walls and door. The chanting included calling Ms Ashgar a "murderer" and "you support genocide". It was necessary for security to intervene and escort her to safety.

18.2 On or around 8 March 2024, a group then called Cymru Students for Palestine (now called Caerdydd Students for Palestine' ("the Group") held a "sit in" at the Centre for Student Life building. Although the individuals involved were not identifiable at the time, the Group has since claimed responsibility by uploading a photograph of the "sit in" to Instagram on 9 March 2025 and declaring that: "This was the first protest action from the group now known as Caerdydd Students for Palestine…".

18.3 On 23 April 2024, persons unknown held a pro-Palestinian protest outside the Julian Hodge Lecture Theatre where Jacob Rees-Mogg was speaking. It is believed that there were around 100 protestors representing groups which are not affiliated with the Students' Union or the University. It is possible that some University students were present, but that could not be confirmed. During the protest, some of the protestors attempted to gain access to the building, and a security staff member was injured by a protestor. The University security and police had to be called to assist.

18.4 On 14 May 2024, the Group held a demonstration in support of Palestine, which had been approved by the University under the Code. This was initially held near the Centre for Student Life, but went beyond a protest and turned into setting up an unauthorised encampment on Horseshoe Drive at the back of the Main Building. This involved erecting around 30 tents on Horseshoe Drive and banners declaring "THIS UNI IS OCCUPIED" and "LIBERATED ZONE". Shortly after setting up the encampment, the Group posted several videos on Instagram confirming their intention to occupy the area for the purpose of protesting against Israel's actions.

18.5 On 25 May 2024, approximately 270 people attended the unauthorised encampment at Horseshoe Drive following a Pro-Palestinian rally in Cardiff City Centre, many of whom were not students. This followed a post published on Instagram on 20 May 2024 by a group called BLM Cardiff & Vale (also posted on the Group's Instagram page), inviting people to "MARCH FOR PALESTINE THIS SATURDAY! We go again and we need the same numbers as last week! PS We will be marching from Cardiff central train station to the student encampment!". The encampment was therefore being used as a destination point to protest marches by external groups.

18.6 On or around 28 June 2024, a number of masked individuals blocked access to the front entrance of the Main Building by sitting in a line whilst holding banners and placards. The Group then posted a video of the blockade on Instagram, accompanied by the text: "Today marks 45 days of the Cardiff Encampment for Palestine and we will not stop and we will not rest until our demands are met…". The "demands" that were made by the Group of the University at the time included:

1. To DISCLOSE their accounts and maintain full transparency in their investments and donations.
2. To DIVEST from companies that are active in the genocide (BAE Systems, Elbit, Northop, Grumman, etc.)
3. To REINVEST in Palestinian education programmes in response to the scholasticide of Gaza.
4. To SUPPORT Palestinian students and faculty who have suffered as a result of the genocide, and protect students and faculty who hold or act upon pro-Palestinian beliefs.

18.7 On 30 May 2024, a group of unknown individuals staged a "die-in" protest on the Park Place gateway of the Main Building, lasting around three hours. This involved people lying on the ground covered in blankets and red dye or paint intended to look like blood. Students had to step over individuals pretending to be dead which caused great distress. As a result, it was necessary for the Main Building to be closed and examinations due to take place that day being urgently relocated. On 31 May 2024, the Group uploaded a post to Instagram claiming responsibility for the "die-in". According to social media posts which the Group re-posted at the time, this "escalation" was due to the University allegedly failing to meet their demands.

18.8 On 1 June 2024, approximately 100 people entered the encampment at Horseshoe Drive following a Pro-Palestinian and Sudan march that had taken place elsewhere. Again, it was believed that many of them were not students of the University.

18.9 On 12 June 2024, an Israeli flag with a message "Wipe your Feet" was displayed by an unknown individual on Horseshoe Drive at the back of the Main Building.

18.10 On 17 June 2024, the University's security staff received complaints from the Group of aggressive behaviour by two homeless people who had set up a tent in the vicinity of the encampment. It was therefore becoming a draw for homeless people. The two individuals were escorted from the University's premises by security staff.

18.11 On various dates leading up to 19 June 2024, persons unknown believed to be involved with the occupants at the encampment defaced a number of the areas of paving and roadway around Horseshoe Drive by writing slogans in chalk such as:

"OUR DEMANDS

1. DISCLOSRE
2. DIVEST
3. REINVEST
4. SUPPORT"

"CARDIFF UNIVERSITY YOUR SILENCE IS COMPLICITY"

"WE ARE HERE UNTIL YOU DIVEST"

18.12 On or around 20 June 2024, unknown individuals believed to be associated with the Group defaced the University's Centre of Student Life building and pavement outside the Student Union. This took place either during or shortly after a meeting which took place between the University's Major Incident Team and the Group.

18.13 On 9 July 2024, a group of individuals blocked the road outside the Centre for Student Life on Park Place. Whilst this was underway, the Group posted: "ROAD BLOCK NOW…Join us as a road block outside CSL on Park Place! Every university and every police force in this country is complicit in the genocide!!".

18.14 On 13 July 2024, the Group announced on Instagram that they would be holding an "ENCAMPMENT PARTY" on Sunday 14 July 2024. This post encouraged "everyone to join us for one last celebration of the encampment". This followed an announcement on Instagram that the encampment would disband on 17 July 2024.

18.15 On 17 July 2024, the day that the unauthorised encampment had been announced to be disbanded, two unknown individuals entered the Main Building with something concealed under their jacket and gained unauthorised access to the roof, posing risk to their own lives. They then raised a Palestinian flag from the flagpole on the roof. During the process, a window restrictor was ripped off the window.

18.16 On the same date, the Group posted a video of the Palestinian flag flying above Main Building with the following message: "And with that, after 64 days the Cardiff Student Encampment for Palestine has come to an end. We know that this is just the beginning, and the student movement for Palestine in Cymru will only grow larger and stronger. We will not stop and we will not rest until every university in Wales has completely divested and detached from the global war machine….".

18.17 On 5 September 2024, the Group announced on Instagram that it was changing its name from 'Cymru Students for Palestine' to 'Caerdydd Students for Palestine'. The Group's message concluded by declaring "We will not stop and we will not rest until every institution in Cymru is fully divested from the global war machine…".

18.18 On or around 5 October 2024, a group of unknown individuals, some of whom are affiliated to the Group, blocked access to the front entrance of Main Building by standing in a line and holding two large banners reading "Caerdydd Students for Palestine" and "CYMRU Queers for Palestine; No Pride in Genocide". The Group then published a post on Instagram headed: "STUDENT BLOC FOR PALESTINE".

18.19 On or around 7 October 2024, four masked individuals wearing headscarves or hoods held a large banner in front of the University's McKenzie House, where an engineering and physics careers fair was being held. At the same time, masked individuals lay on the ground in front of the main doors to take part in a "die in". The engineering and physics careers fair had been moved from the Queens Building to McKenzie House due to the threat of protest, which then materialised there.

18.20 On 8 October 2024, the Group posted a video and photograph of the above events, accompanied by incendiary language such as: "GET MASS MURDERERS OFF OUR CAMPUS @cardiffuni has its latest physics careers fair on at McKenzie House, inviting murderous companies complicit in the genocide in Palestine and the invasion of Lebanon. We must stand against them..... FREE PALESTINE. LONG LIVE THE STUDENT INTIFADA. GET ZIONISM OFF OUR CAMPUS."

18.21 On 14 October 2024, a particularly disruptive pro-Palestinian protest took place outside the University's School of Modern Languages building, during which the protestors blocked access to the site including trying to restrict people from exiting. The University received reports of threatening/abusive behaviour experienced during the protest, with attendees reporting being fearful for their personal safety. Two University students were suspended as a result of unacceptable behaviour.

18.22 On or around 19 February 2025, a group of unknown individuals, some of whom are believed to be part of or affiliated with the Group, engaged in a human blockade of the road between the Centre for Student Life and the Main Building. The individuals were wearing masks and carrying banners, whilst some were banging drums. Whilst the protestors were blocking the road, a van drove into them. Despite that, a number of the protestors continued to stand in front of the van confronting the driver. The Group subsequently posted a video of this incident on Instagram.

18.23 On 18 April 2025, a pro-Palestinian protest was held outside the SPARK building due to the perceived presence of Airbus at the AirBus Centre of Excellence.

18.24 On 6 May 2025, approximately ten unknown individuals entered and unlawfully occupied the University's Glamorgan Building. Around six people entered and occupied parts of one of the Committee Rooms, and a further four individuals occupied a Student Hub, within the Glamorgan Building. The relevant Committee Room which was occupied contains a number of expensive pieces of artwork. The individuals involved deliberately concealed their identity by covering their faces.

18.25 During the unlawful occupation of Glamorgan Building, one or more of the individuals climbed out of a window to access the roof in order to raise a flag on one of the flagpoles at the top of the Glamorgan Building. Some of the members of the group also gained unauthorised access to an upstairs room in the Glamorgan Building which has been condemned due to black mould, and an attic room with a failed floor. In doing so, the unknown individuals placed themselves at serious risk.

18.26 Whilst the unlawful occupation was underway, on 6 May 2025 the Group posted an announcement that: "WE ARE OCCUPYING GLAMORGAN BUILDING. After a year of inaction and cowardice from Cardiff University during and after the encampment, Caerdydd Students for Palestine has launched an occupation of Glamorgan Building in protest of the UEB's [University Executive Board] ongoing cowardice, callousness and complicity in the genocide of the Palestinian people We are occupying a number of rooms in Glamorgan Building including the historical council chambers to remind Cardiff University that you cannot stop the movement for Palestine and we will not stop and we will not rest until Palestine is liberated YMA O HYD'. This post was accompanied by photographs showing masked occupants holding up banners declaring "THIS UNIVERSITY IS OCCUPIED".

18.27 On 7 May 2025, the Group announced that: "We continue to occupy Cardiff University's Glamorgan Building where the flag of Palestine now flys proudly in the sun over campus. We told you we would not stop and we would not rest… Rally outside Glamorgan building from 3:30pm! Bring the noise!". This post was accompanied by a video of a Palestinian flag flying above the Glamorgan Building.

18.28 On the same date, a post was uploaded with a video of a masked occupant inside the Glamorgan Building stating that the Group had "liberated" the Glamorgan Building. The masked occupant (who was also wearing a headscarf and sunglasses to prevent being identified) proceeded to make various "demands" of the University, including that the Vice Chancellor, Professor Wendy Larner, resigns.

18.29 The occupation of Glamorgan Building was ended after approximately 24 hours but the Group made it clear on Instagram that this was not the end of their activity. On the contrary, it was "just the beginning" and had been used as a platform to launch their "demands" for 2025. Their post ended by saying "See you at graduation".

VI. THE CURRENT UNAUTHORISED ENCAMPMENT

19. At approximately 4.30pm on 9 May 2025 a number of masked individuals set up a new unauthorised encampment on Horseshoe Drive at the rear of the Main Building. There were initially approximately 13 tents and 25-30 occupiers. By 9.15pm, two large Gazebos had also been pitched on the grass area of Horseshoe Drive. Those involved deliberately concealed their identity by covering their faces with masks, scarves and/or hooded garments. The University's security officers attended the encampment to ask whether they were students, staff or employees of the University but they refused to respond or engage.

20. A number of banners were also displayed on and around Horseshoe Drive, using phrases such as "THIS UNIVERSITY IS OCCUPIED" and 'HEY WENDY, GUESS WHO'S BACK". The latter appears to be a reference to Professor Wendy Larner, the Vice Chancellor of the University, and suggests that this is a repeat of the 2024 encampment.

21. In addition to placing banners around Horseshoe Drive, the unauthorised occupants have erected two large banners, stating "RESIST" and "EXIST", across the two entrances to Horseshoe Drive. Their presence partially blocks each entrance and makes it difficult for vehicles to drive through without risking driving into the banners or tearing them down.

22. On the same day as setting up the unauthorised encampment at Horseshoe Drive, the Group uploaded the following post to Instagram making it explicitly clear that this is a "relaunch":

> "!!CAERDYDD STUDENTS FOR PALESTINE RECAMP!!
> A year has passed since we last occupied the Horseshoe Drive behind main building, and little has changed since. Gaza is still being bombed. The genocide and ethnic cleansing of Palestine continues to be carried out by the zionist entity with the full support of our government. Cardiff University is complicit in these horrors, and has failed to follow up on the promises they made to students last year. We are here relaunching our encampment because we refuse to be part of a university who is complicit in the ongoing genocide in Gaza. We are that the university engages with us in good faith and meet ALL of our demands!..."

23. By 10 May 2025, the number of tents at the encampment had increased from 13 to 16. On the same day, a protest described as the 'Nakba Day Protest' was held in Cardiff City Centre. The protest ultimately made its way to the unauthorised encampment at Horseshoe Drive (as was a common feature of the 2024 encampment), arriving during the afternoon. Protestors, including members of the public, joined the encampment on the Horseshoe Drive. It is estimated that the number of individuals present increased to approximately 80.

24. Following the 'Nakba Day' protest, a social media post was uploaded to Instagram by the Group stating, 'Nakba Day march arrives at the Cardiff University Encampment', showing that they are linked. This post included a video of the protestors entering the Horseshoe Drive whilst chanting loudly "This Building is covered is Palestinian Blood. This Uni is covered in Palestinian Blood. And their paychecks are written in Palestinian Blood...".

25. A video was also uploaded to YouTube following the 'Nakba Day' protest showing one of the protestors confronting the person filming by the second entrance to Main Building and telling him to leave. When he refused to leave as it was not her University, the protestor started swearing at him and calling him racist and suggested that he must be a "genocidal maniac". The protestor was wearing a face mask, sunglasses and a headscarf to conceal her identity, whilst carrying a banner stating, "HEY WENDY, GUESS WHO'S BACK".

26. It is evident from their Instagram account that the Group calling themselves 'Caerdydd Students for Palestine' have been actively calling for members of the public to visit the encampment and provide donations and encouraging students to "get involved NOW!".

27. In the days leading up to 15 May 2025, the Group publicised that a 'Nakba 77 Vigil' was arranged to take place at the Main Building at 5.30pm. On the day of the planned 'Nakba 77 Vigil', a number of individuals believed to be from or associated with the unauthorised encampment at Horseshoe Drive blockaded both of the entrances to the Main Building. The individuals stood in a line holding an extremely large banner across the front entrance, whilst wearing dark clothes, sunglasses and headscarves or masks to hide their identities. The individuals dispersed of their own accord at approximately 6.48pm on 15 May 2025.

28. On 16 May 2025, the Group escalated their direct action further by blockading both of the entrances to the Main Building between 8.00am and 9.10am. A number of individuals stood in a line holding a large banner across the gated front entrance, whilst wearing dark clothes, sunglasses and headscarves or masks to hide their identities. At the same time, four individuals wearing masks and holding a banner stood in front of the rear entrance door. This meant that both entrances to the Main Building were blocked, including for the purpose of emergency access. Some of those involved were also preventing people leaving the building, including a contractor. The group dispersed when the police were called.

29. The Group has continued to issue calls for support associated with the encampment on social media and undertake direct action protests on the University's land without consent. On 22 May 2025, a "die in" protest was held outside the Centre for Student Life building. This involved unknown persons lying on the ground covered in blankets and fake blood, pretending to be dead, whilst one of the protestors used a megaphone. As a result, it was necessary for the North Entrance of the Centre for Student Life building to be closed.

30. The precise numbers in occupation at Horseshoe Drive have varied since commencement of the unauthorised encampment on 9 May 2025, with greater numbers usually present during the daytime and at weekends. As of 10.55am on 22 May 2025 the number of tents had increased to 22 and 2 gazebos remained.

VII. IDENTITIES OF PERSONS IN OCCUPATION

31. The occupiers at the encampment have generally been concealing their identities by covering their faces with masks, scarves, hoods and/or sunglasses. Those engaged in direct action since the current encampment commenced have also been making extensive efforts to hide their identity, including by manipulating photographs posted online.

32. The University's security staff have attempted to engage with the occupiers at the encampment to establish whether they are students, staff or members of the public, but they have refused to engage or disclose their identities. The Student Union has also attempted to establish dialogue with the occupiers but no-one has formally identified themselves. The security staff have also been unable to positively identify any of the individuals in occupation from video footage. As such, the University does not know the identity of any of the individuals currently in occupation at the unauthorised encampment.

VIII. NOTICE TO VACATE

33. On 16 May 2025, the University served Notice to Vacate upon the occupiers at the encampment at Horseshoe Drive. This was served in Welsh and English and confirmed:

> 1. The University is the leasehold owner of the Land.
> 2. Your occupation of the Land is unlawful in that you do not have authorisation to set up an encampment on the campus or occupy the Land for the purposes of carrying out the ongoing protest and are occupying the same without the University's authority or consent and you have no estate or interest in the Land.
> 3. Alternatively, any implied permission, licence or consent to enter into or remain on the Land for the purpose of carrying out the ongoing protest is hereby withdrawn.
> 4. Your current and continued occupation of the Land amounts to a trespass and the University hereby gives you notice to deliver up possession of the Land immediately.
> 5. Failure to give up possession of the Land by no later than 10am on Monday 19 May 2025 will result in proceedings being issued against you, including a claim for a possession order.

34. The Defendants failed or refused to give up possession of the Land by 10am on 19 May 2025 and remain in occupation without the University's permission, licence or consent.

IX. THE UNIVERSITY'S CLAIM FOR POSSESSION

35. The University has a right to possession of the University Land edged red on Plan 1, which is occupied by the Defendants without the University's consent or licence:

35.1 The Defendants have never been tenants or sub-tenants of the occupied land.

35.2 Whilst some of the persons unknown in occupation at the encampment may be students, there are potentially others in occupation who are not students as a result of various calls for support that have been posted on social media. Insofar as any of the occupiers are not students, they are trespassers on the University's private land. There is no public right of access to the Main Building or Horseshoe Drive.

35.3 Insofar as the persons involved are students of Cardiff University, none of the events or protests at paragraphs 18.1 to 18.29 and paragraphs 19 to 29 above had been notified and/or approved in accordance with the Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech. They therefore constituted trespass on the University's Land.

35.4 For the avoidance of doubt, it is the University's position that setting up an encampment and taking over possession of University Land does not constitute a lawful exercise of freedom of speech. In any event, no attempt was made by the occupants to seek the University's approval to set up an encampment at Horseshoe Drive. Insofar as members of the encampment have arranged protests or similar events on Campus since setting up the present encampment, and have invited external individuals onto the Campus, they have never complied with the Code.

35.5 Alternatively, any implied permission, licence or consent to enter into or remain on the Land for the purpose of carrying out the ongoing protest was expressly withdrawn by the Notice to Vacate served on the encampment on 16 May 2025.

36. If evicted from Horseshoe Drive, there is a significant risk that the Defendants will relocate to other parts of the land identified on Plan 1. This is evidenced by the wording used by the Defendants in social media posts and their published intention to pursue direct action until their "demands" are met. Having initially taken over occupation of Glamorgan Building, the Defendants have already set up an encampment at Horseshoe Drive (yet again) and escalated their direct action with the intention of disrupting University business.

37. The University therefore seeks a possession order in respect of the land shown edged red on Plan 1. The University will refer to University of Essex v Djemal [1980] 1 W.L.R. 1301, 1305D (Shaw LJ), School of Oriental and African Studies v Persons Unknown [2010] EWHC 3977, §§29-30 (Henderson J), and University of Birmingham v. (1) Persons Unknown (2) Ali [2024] EWHC 1771, §§80-81 (Johnson J), in support of the order sought.

X. THE UNIVERSITY'S CLAIM FOR INJUNCTIVE RELIEF

38. Pursuant to section 37 of the Senior Courts Act 1981, the University seeks injunctive relief against the Defendants in respect of the land shown edged blue on Plan 2 to restrain future acts of trespass and nuisance onto parts of the University's land in circumstances where there is considered to be a real and imminent risk of future tortious acts which would cause serious and irreparable harm. Having regard to the facts outlined above, there is a clear and compelling need for an injunction:

38.1 The civil causes of action relied upon by the Claimant are trespass and nuisance, which are made out on the facts particularised at paragraphs 18 to 34 above.

38.2 There is a real and imminent risk of further direct action causing trespass and nuisance by the Defendants given the history outlined above and their published threats to undertake further action until the University meets their "demands".

38.3 There is a compelling justification for the injunction. The University has a right to use its own land for the benefit of the whole of the University community and the Defendants are preventing it from doing so without any lawful right to do so.

38.4 When the encampment occurred in 2024, the University was forced to relocate the Graduation Celebrations to a different area and the University's open days were seriously disrupted. The University also incurred high costs in increased security.

38.5 The cost incurred the University during 2023/2024 was around £200,682.89, including increased security (£107,323.32), relocation of Graduation (£77,920.84), impact upon open days (£13,508.93), and portaloo hire (£1,929.80).

38.6 The current unauthorised encampment and threat of further direct action is again placing the University's Graduation Celebrations and open days in jeopardy. Once again, the University is incurring financial losses. As at 21 May 2025, the University had incurred £26,990.11 in respect of additional security and portaloos.

38.7 Damages would not be an adequate remedy in the present case as: (i) financial loss could not realistically be recovered from Persons Unknown; and in any event (ii) the majority of the harm which the injunction is designed to avoid (for example, risks to education/examinations, health and safety risks, and disruption to graduations and open days) are not capable of compensation in financial terms.

38.8 There is no realistic defence to the claim. The Defendants would be trespassers on the University Land if they have not complied with the Code and/or take up occupation without the University's consent. Members of the public have no general right of access to the land. Insofar as any Defendants might seek to rely upon Article 10 and 11 of ECHR, any such argument would be bound to fail:

38.8.1 The University Land is private land. Articles 10 and 11 ECHR include no right to trespass on private land and thereby override the rights of private landowners: Ineos Upstream v Persons Unknown [2019] 4 WLR 100, §36 (Longmore LJ); Director of Public Prosecutions v Cuciurean [2022] 3 WLR 446 (DC), §§40-50 (Lord Burnett of Maldon CJ) and London City Airport v Persons Unknown [2024] EWHC 2557, §8 (Knowles J).

38.8.2 Alternatively, any interference with Article 10 and 11 of ECHR would be justified in that an injunction would be: (i) prescribed by law; (ii) in pursuit of a legitimate aim; (iii) rationally connected to the means chosen to achieve the legitimate aim; and (iv) proportionate in all the circumstances. The Defendants are able to exercise their Article 10 and 11 rights at other locations without causing disruption to the University community.

38.9 The injunction sought is clear in its terms and has clear geographic and temporal limits which are proportionate to the threat posed by the threatened conduct. There is no lesser means by which the University could achieve much needed protection.

39. In light of the above, the University seeks precautionary injunctive relief against the Defendants to prevent the apprehended trespasses and nuisance and consequent harm.

AND THE CLAIMANT CLAIMS

(1) An order that the Defendants shall give the Claimant possession forthwith of all or any part of the land as shown for identification edged red on the attached 'Plan 1'.

(2) An injunction order that the Defendants must not without the consent of the Claimant:

(a) enter, occupy or remain upon the land shown for identification edged blue on the attached 'Plan 2' (the "Plan 2 land") for the purposes of protest.

(b) directly block, obstruct or interfere with the access of any individual to the Plan 2 land with the intention of stopping that individual accessing the said land.

(c) erect or place any structure (including, for example, tents, gazebos or other sleeping equipment) on the Plan 2 land.

(3) Further and/or other relief.

(4) Costs.

STATEMENT OF TRUTH

The Claimant believes that the facts stated in this Particulars of Claim are true. The Claimant understands that proceedings for contempt of court may be brought against anyone who makes, or causes to be made, a false statement in a document verified by a statement of truth without an honest belief in its truth. WITNESS STATEMENT OF PROFESSOR WENDY LARNER

I, Professor Wendy Larner of Cardiff University, University Secretary's Office, Cardiff, CF10 3AT, will state as follows:-

INTRODUCTION

1. I am the Vice-Chancellor at Cardiff University ("the University").

2. I make this Witness Statement for the purpose of the Review Hearing listed for 21 July 2026, to update the Court on the contemporaneous position following the Order made by Sir Peter Lane on 13 June 2025 granting an injunction (as detailed below) until the end of the current academic year on 31 July 2026.

3. I am duly authorised by the University to make this Witness Statement on its behalf.

4. Insofar as the facts and matters referred to herein are within my own knowledge, they are true and in so far as they are not within my own direct knowledge, they are true to the best of my information and belief, acquired in the course of acting in my capacity as Vice-Chancellor of the University.

5. I have been assisted with drafting this witness statement following discussions with the University's externally appointed solicitors, Shakespeare Martineau LLP.

6. There is now produced and shown to me a paginated bundle of copy documentation to which I shall refer in the course of this Witness Statement, marked "WL1".

7. I have had sight of the Witness Statement of John Bayley dated 23 May 2025 ("Bayley 1"), the Witness Statement of Natalie Frances Gilbert dated 27 May 2025 ("Gilbert 1") and the Witness Statement of Dr Paula Sanderson dated 28 May 2025 ("Anderson 1"), and I adopt the definitions that are contained within those Witness Statements.

BACKGROUND

8. As set out in Anderson 1, on 14 May 2024 a group known as "Cymru Students for Palestine" ("the Group") established an unauthorised encampment on Horseshoe Drive, one of the University's principal thoroughfares, which persisted for approximately nine weeks until 17 July 2024 ("the 2024 Encampment"). During this period, the University experienced significant disruption and escalating conduct, including large influxes of protesters following external rallies and marches, the display of an Israeli flag bearing the words "Wipe your Feet," and masked protesters blocking access to the Main Building. The encampment disbanded on 17 July 2024 following an agreement to enter into dialogue, though upon leaving, two members of the Group entered the Main Building, ripped off a window restrictor, and raised a Palestinian flag from the roof.

9. The impact on the University's operations was severe. Examinations had to be relocated at short notice, Horseshoe Drive was rendered unavailable for University events throughout the period, and graduation celebrations had to be moved behind fencing, significantly diminishing the experience for students and their families.

10. As set out in Anderson 1, almost a year later in May 2025, protest activity once again significantly escalated, in particular:

(a) On 6 May 2025, protesters occupied the Glamorgan Building;
(b) On 9 May 2025, a second encampment was established on Horseshoe Drive ("the 2025 Encampment";
(c) On 16 May 2025, building blockades were imposed at multiple University buildings.

11. Given the escalation of the protest activity and the significant costs that were incurred during the academic year 2024-2025 in response to the 2024 Encampment, on 30 May 2025, the University issued its claim for possession and a precautionary injunction against persons unknown. Following service of the proceedings, the 2025 Encampment was disbanded but the real and imminent risk of unlawful direct action remained at large.

12. On 13 June 2025, Sir Peter Lane granted an injunction across eleven University sites ("the Injunction Land") prohibiting without the University's consent (i) entering, occupying, or remaining upon the Injunction Land for the purposes of protest; (ii) directly blocking, obstructing, or interfering with access to the Injunction Land; or (iii) erecting any structure (including tents, gazebos, or sleeping equipment) on the Injunction Land ("the Injunction"). As the 2025 Encampment had been disbanded by that time as noted above, Sir Peter Lane adjourned the claim for possession generally.

13. A copy of Sir Peter Lane's judgment, which sets out in detail the circumstances leading up to the grant of the Injunction, can be found at pages 2 to 25 of WL1.

EVENTS SINCE THE INJUNCTION WAS GRANTED

14. Since the Injunction was granted, the frequency and severity of incidents on University land have markedly decreased. I set out below the protest-related incidents of which the University is aware since 13 June 2025. In fact, on the occasions when protest activity has occurred on Injunction Land since the Injunction was granted, the protesters have complied upon being informed of the Injunction. For example:

a. On 13 September 2025, two separate protests occurred on the same day (see pages 26 to 47 of WL1). First, an animal rights protest involving six people took place at the Sir Martin Evans Building. When informed of the Injunction, the protesters complied immediately and moved off University land. Second, a pro-life group of four persons set up a stall outside the Main Building gates. Upon being shown the terms of the Injunction, they responded that they would "move it off your property and on to public highway" and did so.

b. On 12 November 2025, Time to Act Cardiff, wrote to the University stating its intention to hold a protest in front of the Main Building on 29 November at 6pm, enclosing a risk assessment form. The University subsequently granted consent to Time to Act Cardiff to hold their protest on Injunction Land subject to a series of safeguarding conditions. These conditions included: acknowledgement that the University reserved the right to enforce the Injunction if necessary; a requirement that organisers and attendees follow reasonable directions of University Security Staff; restriction of the event to the car park area outside the Main Building between 6pm and 7pm (with contingency to 8pm); provision of a safety briefing; appointment of sufficient stewards; a requirement that entrances and exits not be blocked; a requirement that the site be left litter-free; a prohibition on attaching materials to University buildings or fixtures; and a requirement that promotion be aimed at students rather than the wider community.

c. On 10 March 2026, during the Spring Careers Fair at the Centre for Student Life, 5-6 students distributed anti-Gaza leaflets inside the building (see pages 48 to 85 of WL1). Three of those students disrupted an exhibitor's stand. Security assessed this as a potential breach of the Injunction. The students initially refused to leave but complied once shown the Injunction notice. They moved to public land to continue their leafleting without further incident.

d. On 15 May 2026, a demonstration organised by Caerdydd Students for Palestine took place on Park Place (Council-owned land), with 26 participants. The demonstration was peaceful. Police attended following an anonymous call but left without taking action. Critically, the Group acknowledged the Injunction in their publicity material, stating that the protest would be "held in a public space outside the university to avoid their injunction." (see pages 86 to 87 of WL1).

15. The above demonstrates that the Injunction has provided the security team with clear parameters and expectations regarding the monitoring and management of protest activity, enabling personnel to identify, track, and respond to such activity in a consistent and controlled manner without overstepping protesters' freedoms. Additionally, the Injunction has not prevented protest on University land; instead, it has channelled protest through a process that safeguards the interests of the wider University community. As the Time to Act Cardiff protest demonstrated, the Injunction has not prevented that process from being engaged with by event organisers and/or 'protestor' groups.

IMPACT OF THE INJUNCTION

16. The broad consensus that the University has received on an ad-hoc basis is that the Injunction has had a significant positive impact on the University's operations and campus environment.

17. The reduction in protest activity has allowed the University to maintain business continuity across teaching, research and operational services with fewer unplanned interruptions to scheduled activities. This stability has enabled the University to maintain consistent service delivery for students, staff, and external partners, while reducing the need for reactive operational response. With fewer protests requiring reactive response and management, reliance on enhanced or short notice security deployments has decreased. This has reduced operational costs and improved longer term security planning and resource allocation. Reduced protest activity has lowered anxiety levels, particularly for staff in frontline, academic, and student facing roles. A calmer and more controlled campus environment has increased confidence in the University's ability to provide a safe and supportive workplace.

18. The consistent themes are that the Injunction has reduced disruption and anxiety, improved staff wellbeing and morale, enhanced confidence in campus safety, enabled more effective resource planning, and provided a clear framework for managing protest-related risks—all without negatively affecting the wider campus experience. Notably, even those who were initially sceptical of the measure, acknowledge that it has proved effective in practice, particularly in restoring staff confidence and reducing intimidation.

19. On 3 June 2026 the University were contacted by South Wales Police ("SWP") where SWP noted that since the Injunction has been in force there has been a de-escalation of incidents (see pages 88 to 89 of WL1).

20. As is demonstrable from the above, the Injunction has had the desired effect, and the University is grateful for the Court's assistance in this regard. Since the Injunction was granted, there has been continued engagement with the University's established processes to ensure that any events or demonstrations are planned and held in a manner that enables the University to comply with its duties to all members of its community.

STRATEGY GOING FORWARD

21. The decision by the University to seek the Injunction was in response to the marked escalation in conduct that necessitated Court intervention. It has always been the University's intention to engage with its own policies, procedures and student bodies in order to mediate the 'protestor' forum. The University recognise that the composition of the student body had changed since the Injunction was first obtained, such that there appears to be more engagement and it is hoped that the new policies and procedures outlined below will help with the University in managing protest activity and upholding free speech. After careful consideration, the University Executive Board has decided not to apply for an extension of the Injunction beyond its expiry on 31 July 2026. The University consider that the original purpose for which the injunction was sought, which was commensurate to the risk at the time, has now been sufficiently mitigated such that the Injunction is no longer necessitated beyond the end of the current academic year on 31 July 2026.

22. Going forward, I have outlined below the University's strategy for managing protest activity and upholding freehold of speech in the new academic year.

23. In advance of the Injunction coming to the end of its term on 31 July 2026, the University has developed and updated a suite of policies, procedures, and guidance documents that collectively provide a robust framework for managing protest and upholding freedom of speech (see pages 90 to 97 of WL1). The updated Cardiff University Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech (Version 3.2), is to be issued in compliance with Section 43 of the Education (No. 2) Act 1986 and informed by the Higher Education (Freedom of Speech) Act 2023. The Code is underpinned by the Event and Speaker Booking Procedure (Appendix 1, Version 3.2), which establishes a clear, transparent approval process for all events and meetings on University premises, including protests.

24. Under this framework, requests are received via an online booking form (see pages 98 to 102 of WL1), assessed for risk, and approved subject to any necessary conditions, with a presumption in favour of consent. Both the updated Cardiff University Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech and the booking form can be found on the University's website, which I exhibit at page 103 of WL1.

25. The University also intends to publish detailed guidance on expectations regarding legal protest, setting out clearly what constitutes acceptable and unacceptable conduct during protests, including notification requirements, expected behaviours, and the consequences of non-compliance. Importantly, this guidance was developed with input from the Students' Union and is consistent with approaches taken by other UK universities.

26. The University's approach to managing protest activity without the injunction relies on several key mechanisms. Firstly, the established event and protest booking process provides a proven, fair, and timely mechanism for approving protests, with only very rare instances where bookings have not been accommodated and none refused on the basis of subject matter or speaker. Secondly, the University retains the ability to carry out dynamic risk assessments for spontaneous or unplanned protests and to take proportionate action where health and safety, access, or the rights of others are at risk. Thirdly, the University's Student Conduct Regulations and staff disciplinary procedures provide existing mechanisms for addressing misconduct arising from unlawful or disruptive protest activity.

27. The above has also been developed by the University on the basis that should escalated activity re-emerge, the University reserves the right to seek further legal remedies should circumstances warrant it. The University hopes that this will not be necessary and that the improved picture that has emerged over the last academic year will continue going forward but reserves the right to do so if necessary to protect the University community, should similar activity occur as that which led to Sir Peter Lane granting the Injunction.

STATEMENT OF TRUTH

I believe that the facts stated in this witness statement are true. I understand that proceedings for contempt of court may be brought against anyone who makes, or causes to be made, a false statement in a document verified by a statement of truth without an honest belief in its truth.

SIR PETER LANE:

1. This is my judgment in the case. The claimant is the University of Cardiff. It applies for injunctive relief to protect areas of land edged blue on Plan 2 accompanying the draft injunction order. There is also a claim for possession in respect of areas of land edged red on Plan 1 accompanying the application. The claimant no longer seeks a possession order as to the land subjected to an encampment, which was vacated following service of the claim; nor does it seek possession in respect of the other land covered by the possession claim plan. The claimant, however, invites this court to adjourn the possession aspects of the claim generally at this stage, given the nature of the threat, to which I shall make reference later.

2. Ms Stacey, King's Counsel, who appears on behalf of the claimant, submits that if possession should in future be needed in respect of the land, then the course proposed saves having to start again from scratch. That in turn will save costs. I consider that this submission is sound. The possession claim is, accordingly, adjourned generally.

3. In terms of the injunction, the claimant seeks to prohibit the defendants from carrying out the following acts without "consent;" a term which is defined in the draft order as meaning permission given by the University under the Code, (as to which I shall have more to say in due course), or under other express permission. The acts in question are, first, entering, occupying or remaining upon the injunction land for the purposes of protest without consent. Secondly, directly blocking, obstructing or interfering with the access of any individual to the injunction land, with the intention of stopping that individual accessing that land. Thirdly, erecting or placing any structure, including, for example, tents, gazebos or other sleeping equipment, on the injunction land.

4. The claimant submits that the claim is similar to the recent cases of University of London v Persons Unknown [2024] EWHC 2895 (Ch) and University of Cambridge v Persons Unknown [2025] EWHC 724. In both of those cases injunctive relief was sought and obtained against student protestors taking direct action on what is said to be related grounds. Importantly, however, I must decide the present application specifically by reference to the facts of this case. Further, the fact that other applications of an apparently similar nature have been granted in no way affects the legal position. In particular, the applicant must meet a high threshold for granting relief in cases of this kind.

5. It is necessary to say a little bit about the claimant. The University is a Russell Group University. It is said to have a global reputation. Its main campus is in Cathays Park in Cardiff city centre. The campus is home to a substantial number of the University's buildings, as well as hosting key events in the University calendar. Two such categories of events are important in the present case. They are graduation celebrations and open days. The University currently has in the region of 33,000 students. It also employs something in the region of 6,900 staff. It has what is said in the evidence to be a diverse community, with students coming from over 100 countries. When students accept an offer to study at the University, they agree to abide by the University's charter, statutes, ordnances and regulations. These include the Student Conduct Regulations, which require students to act in accordance with the University's regulations and policies. Secondly, there is the Student Conduct Procedure. This requires students to treat others with dignity and respect, not to behave in a manner which disrupts University activities or which obstructs any student, member of staff or visitor in the performance of their study work; and to respect other people's right to enjoyment of their property, including that of the University itself. Third, there is the Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech. This sets out the University's principles in relation to freedom of speech and contains a procedure for organising events such as protests on University land and which involves securing the University's specific consent. I shall have a good deal more to say about the Code of Practice, or "the Code", as I shall refer to it.

6. The defendants comprise persons unknown, who are protesting in relation to the Israel/Palestine conflict and the University's response or, as the protestors would say, lack of response to that conflict. The methods employed by the defendants have included disruptive direct action protests which have been targeted at the University. They have included an unauthorised occupation of land and buildings belonging to the University, blocking, obstructing or interfering with access to the University's buildings and taking over land by setting up structures, including tents and other things of the kind described in the draft injunction order.

7. The University has been unable positively to identify any of the individuals. This is because they have been deliberately concealing their identities. However, as will appear from the witness evidence, the protestors appear to be associated with groups known as Caerdydd Students for Palestine, Stop the War Coalition, Black Lives Matter Cardiff and Stand up 4 Palestine. The leadership of the protestors is unclear. However, media output of Caerdydd Students for Palestine suggests they are the most prominent group involved. Both in 2024 and 2025, the group issued demands as part of a campaign directed against the University. The demands published in May 2024 included disclosing University accounts and maintaining full transparency as to investments and donations, divesting from companies that are active in what is said to be genocide, as to which certain corporate organisations are mentioned, reinvesting in Palestinian education programmes in response to what is said to be the scholasticide of Gaza and supporting Palestinian students and faculty who have suffered as a result of the genocide, as well as protecting students and faculty who hold or act upon pro-Palestinian beliefs.

8. It is important to emphasise that this court is not required or, indeed, permitted to pass any view as to the merits or otherwise of the protest. The demands are relevant, so the claimant submits, insofar as they may show a continuing threat to engage in direct action of a kind which the draft injunction order seeks to prohibit. The defendants are, accordingly, categorised as persons unknown. That materially impacts the nature of the application, as I shall explain.

9. Mr Lawrence has submitted handwritten and typewritten submissions in connection with the application. It does not appear that he has been involved in any direct action to date, nor that he has any intention of doing so. Notwithstanding that the nature of the injunction sought is one involving a contra mundum category of persons, I do not consider that it is in all the circumstances appropriate for Mr Lawrence to be joined as a defendant. He stands rather in the position of an interested party. I am grateful to him for his submissions and can confirm that I have had regard to them.

10. On 10 June 2025 the European Legal Support Centre or ELSC, as I shall refer to it, applied for an order authorising it to intervene in the present proceedings. Having considered the matter, I granted the order sought on that day. In consequence, written submissions on behalf of the ELSC were prepared by Mr Grant Kynaston of counsel and filed and served on 11th June 2025. Along with those written submissions was a witness statement to which I shall make reference in due course. I am grateful to ELSC for its submissions. I shall make extensive reference to them in the course of this judgment. They have also helpfully provided a bundle of authorities that supplements the authorities provided by the claimant.

11. I need now to consider in some detail the witness evidence of the claimant. Ms Natalie Gilbert has filed a witness statement with exhibits. She is a solicitor in England and Wales and is the Interim Head of Legal Services at the University. Ms Gilbert describes in detail the nature of the Cathays Park Campus and the buildings and other land in respect of which the injunction is sought. She says that the campus is home to many of the University's academic buildings, including the Main Building at Park Place and the Glamorgan Building on King Edward VII Avenue. The Main Building is described often as the centre of the campus. It is the flagship building for the University. It houses the Vice Chancellor's office and key administrative functions of the University. It is a Grade II listed building. It regularly hosts conferences and exhibitions, as well having teaching and research facilities, a lecture theatre and science library. The University is the leasehold owner of the Main Building.

12. The Glamorgan Building is a Grade I listed building. It hosts the University's School of Social Sciences. It also includes a formal Council Chamber and committee rooms, which are used for various events and social occasions. The rooms are also available for public hire. The University is the freehold owner of the Glamorgan Building. The Glamorgan Building has, she says, been recently targeted and subject to an unauthorised occupation.

13. Horseshoe Drive was until very recently the subject of unauthorised occupation. This is in front of the Main Building and is an area of green space. It sits at the heart of the University campus and is a central location for students, staff members and visitors. It is surrounded by various other buildings, including the Sir Martyn Evans Building, the Tower Building and the Centre for Student Life.

14. Ms Gilbert makes reference to previous direct action. The very recent encampment at Horseshoe Drive was not the first instance of that area being unlawfully occupied by persons unknown; nor is it the first time the University has been subject to direct action involving trespass and nuisance, causing what she says is significant disruption to the University community. Some of those incidents are described in detail by Ms Gilbert. On 14th November 2023, persons unknown held a pro-Palestinian protest inside the University's John Percival Building, where a member of the Welsh Conservative Party was speaking. It was necessary for security to intervene and escort her to safety. On or around 8th March 2024 a group then called Cymru Students for Palestine (now called Caerdydd Students for Palestine) held a sit-in at the University's Centre for Student Life building. The Centre for Student Life is a landmark facility, according to Ms Gilbert, designed to enhance the student experience by centralising support services and providing modern learning and social space. It is located across the road from the Main Building at the heart of the campus.

15. On 23rd April 2024, unknown individuals held a pro-Palestinian protest outside the Julian Hodge Lecture Theatre, where Mr Jacob Rees-Mogg was speaking. University security and police had to be called to assist due to the resulting disturbance. Some of the protestors attempted to gain access to the building and a security staff member was injured by a protestor, having been hit with a megaphone. On 14th May 2024 the group then called Cymru Students for Palestine held a demonstration which was not approved by the University. According to Ms Gilbert, this went further than a peaceful protest and led to persons unknown setting up an encampment and occupying and remaining without consent on the land at Horseshoe Drive. The group posted several videos and Instagrams confirming their intention to occupy the area for the purpose of protesting and approximately 30 tents were erected on Horseshoe Drive.

16. On 19th May 2024, the group wrote an open letter to the University, making various demands in connection with the group's opposition to Israel's action. On 29th May 2024, the Vice Chancellor responded to those demands by way of an open statement to all students. On 25th May 2024 approximately 270 people attended the unauthorised encampment after a rally in Cardiff City Centre. The encampment was, according to Ms Gilbert, being used at that time as an end point for protest marches by external groups. On 30th May 2024, University management met with persons unknown in order to discuss the University's increasing concerns about the unauthorised encampment. On 1st June 2024, people entered the encampment after a march on behalf of Palestine and in respect of Sudan. Many of these were considered not to be members of the University. On 12th June 2024, an Israeli flag was displayed at Horseshoe Drive with a message "Wipe your feet", apparently referring to the flag.

17. On 17th June 2024, complaints were received concerning what appeared to be homeless people who had set up a tent in the vicinity of the encampment. On 20th June 2024, another meeting took place between members of the group and the University's Major Incident Team. After the conclusion of the meeting the University management were informed that the group had defaced had the University's Centre of Student Life building and pavement. On or around 28th June 2024, a number of protestors sat in a line blocking the main entrance to the Main Building, holding banners and placards. Whilst the first encampment was in place at Horseshoe Drive a number of unknown individuals believed to form part of or to be involved with the encampment defaced the University's land on or around Horseshoe Drive by writing various phrases and slogans in chalk on the pavement and the roadway. On 9th July 2024 a group of individuals blocked the road outside the Centre for Student Life on Park Place. During that period various discussions were taking place between the University and persons unknown, notably regarding the University's relationship with third parties in the defence industry.

18. Eventually the University reached agreement for future dialogue and the encampment was disbanded. However, before that occurred on 13th July 2024, the group announced on Instagram that they would be holding an encampment party on 14th July and the Instagram message encouraged people to join that. On 17th July, two members of the encampment entered the Main Building and gained access to its roof. During that incursion a window restrictor was ripped from the window. A Palestinian flag was then raised from the flagpole of the roof of the Main Building. Ms Gilbert says this is similar to what more recently occurred at the Glamorgan Building on 7th May 2025.

19. Despite the disbandment in 2024 of the Horse Shoe Drive encampment, Ms Gilbert says that the group continued to engage in direct action on University land throughout the remainder of 2024 and into early 2025. On 14th October 2024, what is described as a particularly disruptive protest involving direct action took place on University land that resulted in the suspension of two students, due to unacceptable behaviour. It also resulted in the cessation of the University's engagement with the group. A University spokesman said that although the University supported the right to peaceful and lawful protest, actions that breach behaviour expectations or dignity at work and study policies and which resulted in disruption to the wider University community would not be tolerated.

20. On or around 19th February 2025, members of the group blocked the road outside the Centre for Student Life. Masked individuals carrying banners and banging drums blocked the road and a van which attempted to gain access to the premises could not do so. The incident led to the police being called. According to a post of 20th February 2025, the group accepted responsibility for what had happened. On 18th April 2025, a pro-Palestinian protest was held outside the SPARK Building. This was due to what was perceived as the presence of AirBus at the AirBus Centre of Excellence located within that building.

21. Dr Paula Sanderson is the Chief Operating Officer and University Secretary for the University. She has filed and served a witness statement with exhibits. She describes a Major Incident Plan which is operated by the University. It concerns anything defined as any significant incident that threatens people, buildings, the operational structure or the University's reputation and which requires special measures to restore matters to normal. When major incidents such as unauthorised occupation of land occur, the University convenes a Major Incident Team. This comprises leads from all the relevant professional service areas of the University, chaired by Dr Sanderson. The Major Incident Team has delegated authority for decision making in respect of such incidents. Decision making regarding legal action is sub-delegated to a smaller group of professional services leads, again chaired by Dr Sanderson. There were small group meetings of the Major Incident Team on 13th May, 14th May, 16th May, 19th May, 21st May and 22nd May 2025.

22. I have already made reference to the University regulations. These are exhibited by Dr Sanderson. So too is the Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech. This is, in my view, a highly important policy document. At paragraph 3 we see it stated:

> "The principles of freedom of speech, freedom of expression and academic freedom are important to universities because they define their role as being one where debate is positively encouraged, and where a range of ideas can be considered, examined and dissected both in academic programmes and in the wider life of the institution".

Freedom of speech under section 43 of the Education Act 1986 is of fundamental importance for universities. It imposes a positive and proactive legal duty. Freedom of speech is not, however, unrestricted. As set out in the Human Rights Act 1998, the principles of freedom of speech and expression must be exercised with regard to other relevant legal requirements with which the University must comply.

23. The Code then sets out a process for gaining permission to hold an event on the University campus. The provisions are described in detail by Dr Sanderson. Importantly, paragraph 4.1 the Code confirms that the University will not unreasonably refuse to allow events to be held on its premises unless a conflicting legal provision is identified as a reason to refuse or restrict events. This, therefore, means, according to Dr Sanderson, that there is a presumption in favour of consent being granted for events. Thus, Dr Sanderson considers that the protestors in the present case have ample means to lawfully protest within the scope of the Code. Instead, however, they have chosen unlawfully to occupy University land to the exclusion of others.

24. There is some degree of overlap concerning events attested by Dr Sanderson, as compared with Ms Gilbert. Nevertheless, it is important to record certain matters to which she deposes. On 6th May 2025, ten people entered and occupied parts of the Glamorgan Building for approximately 24 hours. During their occupation, they entered what was described as a condemned room; condemned because, as I understand it, of the presence of black mould. They also gained access to an unsafe attic space. One individual scaled the building in order to raise a Palestinian flag from the flagpole on the roof of the Glamorgan Building. On 9th May 2025, tents were erected on Horseshoe Drive. Protestors displayed banners and flags, including an address to the Vice-Chancellor, Professor Larner whose resignation is being sought by the group. Because the protestors covered their faces, their identity has not been ascertained. Dr Sanderson considers, however, that the protestors are a mix of students and members of the public that are associated with groups such as Caerdydd Students for Palestine, Stop the War Coalition, Black Lives Matter Cardiff and Stand Up 4 Palestine. The University security team have made several attempts to identify the protestors. However, when asked to identify themselves by the team they get no response.

25. The Student Union has also attempted to engage with the occupants of the encampment set up in 2025, but they have not been able to identify any specific individual who was actually in occupation. During weekends, the illegal occupation site at Horseshoe Drive swelled, it being inferred that a larger proportion of protestors were not students during that time. Importantly, Dr Sanderson has this to say about the effects of the direct action:

> "In my experience, this type of conduct fosters a culture of tension and unease, particularly when masked individuals stand in groups or chant slogans, which can be intimidating for others. This may have a negative impact on others present on campus, particularly those who may hold differing views or simply wish to go about their studies or business > without being confronted by such conduct or masked individuals".

26. The University has, according to Dr Sanderson, suffered harm resulting from the past direct action. Due to the unauthorised encampment in 2024, the University took a pre-emptive decision to move its summer examinations away from the Main Building prior to the encampment of 2025. That was motivated by a desire to reduce disruption for students. The Main Building had, however, been the traditional setting for examinations for some time before and is well set up for mass examinations. It is also particularly useful for students who require reasonable adjustments; for example, those who have disabilities and who require a personal invigilator or a far smaller examination group. It is also a case that at the Main Building there is specialist equipment to support disabled students, as well as there being sophisticated IT infrastructure. Alternative sites are not as well equipped or appropriate.

27. On 7th May 2025, the University took the decision to close Glamorgan Building as a result of its occupation. The Glamorgan Building is regularly let for commercial events. Dr Sanderson makes reference to the incident on 16th May 2025, when a banner was held across Park Place, the Park Place entrance to the Main Building, preventing access for vehicles and pedestrians. After the group refused to engage with the University's security team, police had to be called in order to maintain access and egress. The protestors in fact dispersed prior to the arrival of the police. Disruption was caused to the running of the Main Building as a result of what is described as this blockade. During the summer months, the University holds exhibitions on the lawn of Horseshoe Drive, but that would not be possible if there were an unauthorised settlement. The Main Building also serves some 300 students from the School of Chemistry and the School of Earth and Environmental Sciences. It is the administrative centre of the University, as Ms Gilbert has pointed out.

28. Dr Sanderson testifies that the persistence of the protestors caused concern and distress to the University's Jewish community. Concerns have been received from both the Jewish Society of Students and a Jewish member of staff. Dr Sanderson understand that members of staff whose names may be considered to be traditionally Jewish have removed their nameplates from their doors in the Glamorgan Building over concern for their safety.

29. Dr Sanderson makes reference to graduation. She describes this as an exceptionally important day for a student and their family. She was concerned that the presence of the encampment might negatively affect the experience for the graduating class of 2025. In addition to this, as a result of the encampment the University has had to take on extra security personnel at considerable cost. There has also been the cost of supplying Portaloos for the encampment in order to ensure health and safety. The encampment on Horseshoe Drive meant that it could not be used in connection with the graduation celebration. I shall deal later with the issue of graduation celebrations in the course of 2025, in the context of the encampment at Horseshoe Drive now having ceased.

30. Dr Sanderson says that on 16th May 2025 the University served a notice to vacate upon the occupiers at the encampment at Horseshoe Drive. On 22nd May 2025, a so-called die-in protest was held outside the Centre for Student Life Building. This involved unknown persons lying on the ground, covered in blankets and fake blood whilst protestors used a megaphone.

31. Again, there is some overlap between the evidence of Ms Gilbert and Dr Sanderson concerning the various buildings and other land which are sought to be the subject of the injunction. Nevertheless, it is necessary to cover Dr Sanderson's evidence in some detail owing to the importance of ensuring that any injunction that may be granted covers only land and buildings in respect of which there is a compelling need for protection.

32. She describes the Main Building in similar terms to Ms Gilbert. The Glamorgan Building is similarly described. There is then reference to the Bute Building on King Edward VII Avenue. This includes, according to Dr Sanderson, a car parking area located between Bute Building and Glamorgan Building. Bute Building is a Grade II listed building that hosts the University's Welsh School of Architecture. It is directly adjacent to the Glamorgan Building and Dr Sanderson considers it to be at high risk of displacement in the event of the encampment at Horseshoe Drive ceasing.

33. The Centre for Student Life is located across the road from the Main Building and is at the heart of the campus. It is the venue that graduates attend on their arrival at their graduation ceremony for the process of gowning. The Centre for Student Life has been a regular target for direct action. 50 to 51 Park Place is a University property that hosts certain examinations. It is in close proximity to the Centre for Student Life and is, therefore, considered to be an obvious location for the defendants to move to if they were required to leave that area and it is therefore at high risk of displacement. It can be readily accessed and is a visible location on the main road. It is also a key thoroughfare for students and staff taking shortcuts to other buildings, as well as being used by members of the public.

34. The Sir Martin Evans Building, Cardiff, is a series of prominent University buildings, which includes the Cardiff School of Biosciences, the School of Psychology, Tower Building and Law Building. Dr Sanderson considers that these buildings are at further risk of further trespass and nuisance because they are all publicly accessible without a key card and include facilities such as toilets and are an ideal site for protest occupation, being located so close to the Main Building and Centre for Student Life. Protest occupation in those buildings would be damaging in terms of reputation to the University as they are prominent buildings and visible to visitors, in particular those attending the graduation celebrations or open days.

35. The Music Building at Corbett Road, Cathays, is said to be a building open to the public and there is a high value statue situated on the lawn outside. The lawn is one of the only other open patches of ground beyond the Horseshoe in close proximity to the Main Building. The lawn is, therefore, a highly visible campus location and there is considered to be a risk that the law will be attractive to protestors as another place to occupy.

36. Abacws is the University's School of Computer Science and Informatics. It is openly accessible and so an easy target. It also, importantly, has close ties with Airbus's Centre of Excellence which formed the subject of a previous protest at the SPARK Building. These close ties are public knowledge.

37. Trevithick Building on Newport Road is a library and information hub for engineering, physics and astronomy. It is considered to be particularly vulnerable because it is part of a complex of buildings that together comprise the Queen's Buildings and both Trevithick and Queen's Schools. It also has ties to the organisations mentioned earlier.

38. Queen's Buildings on The Parade house the University's School of Engineering. This has close research links with a number of entities with which the occupants of the encampment at Horseshoe Drive are demanding that the University sever its links. This building has been targeted previously, so that the University had to relocate a particular event from it in October 2024.

39. The SPARK Building on Maindy Road hosts the University's Social Science Research Park and has also been a target for direct action protest.

40. Dr Sanderson says that each of the buildings referred to has been assessed by the Major Incident Team and carefully considered for the purposes of the proposed application for an injunction. The buildings are specifically identified as being particularly vulnerable to incidents of unauthorised occupation or encampment or direct action protest and to be at high risk of displacement. The University is not, however, seeking an injunction order in respect of a number of other buildings where there have previously been protests. Rather, it has identified the buildings just mentioned as being at higher risk of a target of future occupations due to their location and visibility. It is said that the properties only form a small proportion of the University's campus and land ownership. They have been carefully selected as requiring protection.

41. The University has, according to Dr Sanderson, been particularly conscious of the need to ensure that any injunction is kept as tight as possible in terms of geographical area. Dr Sanderson confirms that the University is the freehold or leasehold owner of each of the buildings and land. Documentation to support that is exhibited.

42. Turning to the issue of urgency, Dr Sanderson points out that open days are due to commence on 27th and 28th June 2025 and graduation ceremonies are to take place around 14th to 18th July 2025. There are also open days later in the year, in September and October. All of these are, she says, crucial events in the University calendar and for the University community. The University relies on open days to attract the best candidates to study at the University and enjoy all that it has to offer. She also says: "It hardly needs saying that Graduation is the single most important event in a student's degree course". She testifies that there are significant safeguarding issues, as students and staff have reported feeling intimidated and fearful of the individuals who have been taking direct action. She refers to the recent occupation of the Glamorgan Building when protestors put their own lives at risk by climbing on to the roof to fly a flag.

43. Mr Jonathan Bayley is the Security Operations Manager (Interim) of the Campus Security Team at the University. He has supplied a witness statement with exhibits. He also testifies to events in May 2025 concerning the Glamorgan Building. He also notes that on 7th May 2025 a post was uploaded with a video of a masked occupant inside that building. The video stated that the Caerdydd Students for Palestine had "liberated the Glamorgan Building". Upon ending the occupation, Mr Bayley says that a post was put up saying that the occupation of the Glamorgan Building had ended after 24 hours, which was its planned time. This was in order to show the University that "we are still here and to launch our new demands for 2025 … This is not the end. It is just the beginning. See you at graduation". The post was accompanied by photographs of 12 masked individuals, whose identities had thus been concealed. Mr Bayley makes further detailed reference to videos and other social media communications from the protestors. He refers, as do the other witnesses, to the blocking of the entrance to the Main Building on 15th May 2025. He confirms that it has not been possible to identify the protestors owing to them concealing their identities. He says that this is commonly achieved by the protestors wearing keffiyehs, scarves, masks or other cloth covering over the lower part of the face, in some cases completely obscuring the nose and mouth. Accordingly, the identity of the protestors cannot be established.

44. Despite every effort having been made by the security team to repeatedly seek engagement, there has been no positive engagement during this year. Currently, security staff are having to undertake ID checks at the entrances to the University buildings to ensure the safety of staff and students. This has required additional officer support at a cost to the University. The cost is said to be significant. Something in the region of £200,000 was expended last year.

Persons unknown

45. I am satisfied from the evidence that the claimant has been unable to identify those who have carried out the protests and occupation.

Notification

46. As the defendants are persons unknown, notice of the application has, I am satisfied, not been possible. See in this regard Wolverhampton City Council v London Gypsies and Travellers [2024] AC 983. Rather, the claimant must take reasonable steps to draw the application to the attention of persons likely to be affected by the injunction sought or with some other genuine and proper interest in the application, as to which see paragraph 226 of Wolverhampton City Council v London Gypsies and Travellers. I am satisfied that the claimant has done so by taking the following steps in relation to the claim form. It has affixed copies of the notice to vacate at prominent locations and attempted to effect personal service. It has affixed copies of the claim form, application notice and evidence support on the injunction land. That occurred on 30th May 2025. It has uploaded copies of the documents to a website. It has sent an email to the email address associated with the defendants; that is, Cymru Students for Palestine, stating that a claim has been brought. It has affixed the notice in prominent locations on the injunction land setting out where the documents can be found and obtain a hard copy. Those steps were completed on 4th June 2025, as to which I have regard to the witness statement of Mr Martin Edwards, solicitor on behalf of the claimant, and also the certificate of a process service, Mr Wayne Reynolds.

47. Steps were repeated in respect of the amended notice of hearing on 5th June as to which I have regard to the second witness statement of Mr Edwards and the process server. As such, I am satisfied that even though the requirements in CPR 23.71 and section 12(2)(a) of the Human Rights Act 1998 may not technically apply, they have been complied with in spirit, as to which see London City Airport v Persons Unknown [2024] EWHC 255 7 KB.

The law

48. The law relating to injunctions against persons unknown was clarified by the Supreme Court in Wolverhampton. It is convenient to have regard to the headnote to the report of the case in [2024] AC 983. There, it is recorded that the Supreme Court held that it was in principle a legitimate extension of the court's practice to allow both interim and final injunctions against "newcomers"; that is, persons who at the time of the grant of the injunction were neither defendants nor identifiable and who were described in the injunction only as "persons unknown". However, as the headnote records:

> "Such an injunction was only likely to be justified as a novel exercise of the court's equitable discretionary power if the applicant:
> (1) demonstrated a compelling need for the protection of civil rights or the enforcement of public law not adequately met by any other available remedies (including statutory remedies);
>
> (2) Built into the application and the injunction sought, procedural protection for the rights (including Convention rights) of those persons unknown who might be affected by it;
>
> (3) complied in full with the disclosure duty which attached to the making of without notice application; and
> (4) showed that, on the particular facts, it was just and convenient in all the circumstances that the injunction sought should be made.
>
> (5) that, if so justified, any injunction made by the court had to:
>
> (i) spell out clearly and in everyday terms the full extent of the acts it was prohibiting, corresponding as closely as possible to the actual or threatened unlawful conduct,
>
> (ii) extend no further than the minimum necessary to achieve the purpose for which it was granted,
> (iii) be subject to strict temporal and territorial limits,

> (iv) be actively publicised by the applicant so as to draw it to the attention of all actual and potential respondents and
> (v) include generous liberty to any person affected by its terms to apply to vary or discharge the whole or any part of the injunction".

49. As will be seen, this approach has been influential in the development of the law as regards "persons unknown" who, as in the present case, are protestors, rather than gypsies and travellers whose presence on land is sought to be prevented. This is so, notwithstanding that the Supreme Court said at paragraph 235 of the judgment in Wolverhampton that:

> "… nothing we have said should be taken as prescriptive in relation to newcomer injunctions in other cases, such as those directed at protestors who engage in direct action".

The other aspect of the Wolverhampton case that is relevant for present purposes concerns interim as opposed to final injunctions. At paragraph 137, the court regarded it as "unrealistic" in the present context to categorise an interim injunction as temporary relief intended to hold the position until trial and to distinguish this from the position where the trial has taken place and the rights of the parties have been determined, following which the litigation is at an end.

50. At paragraph 139 the court said this:

> "… this constant focus upon the duality of interim and final injunctions is ultimately unhelpful as an analytical tool for solving the problem of injunctions against newcomers. In our view the injunction, in its operation upon newcomers, is typically neither interim nor final, at least in substance. Rather it is, against newcomers, what is now called a without notice (i.e. in the old jargon ex parte) injunction, that is an injunction which, at the time when it is ordered, operates against a person who has not been served in due time with the application so as to be able to oppose it, who may have had no notice (even informal) of the intended application to court for the grant of it, and who may not at that stage even be a defendant served with the proceedings in which the injunction is sought. This is so regardless of whether the injunction is in form interim or final".

51. In Valero Energy Ltd v Persons Unknown [2024] EWHC 134 (Ch) Ritchie J distilled a list of requirements that must be met in the case of proposed injunctions against persons unknown who are protestors. In doing so, he drew on Wolverhampton and on propositions articulated by the Court of Appeal in Canada Goose UK Retail Ltd v Persons Unknown [2021] WLR 2802 which Ritchie J held to remain good law following the judgment in Wolverhampton:

> "58 There must be a civil cause of action identified in the claim form and particulars of claim. The usual quia timet (since he fears) action relates to the fear of torts such as trespass, damage to property, private or public nuisance, tortious interference with trade contracts, conspiracy with consequential damage and on-site criminal activity".

Under heading (3) "Sufficient evidence to prove the claim," Ritchie J articulated what is in effect the test for establishing a case for summary judgment; namely, that there is no realistic prospect of a defence succeeding. This is plain from paragraph 48 of his judgment, where he set out the law on summary judgment.

52. For the claimant in the present case, Ms Stacey in paragraph 8.13 of her skeleton argument accepts that she must meet that threshold. I shall return to this in the context of the fact that the ELSC has filed a witness statement from a member of the University's academic staff. I should also at this point mention that Ms Stacey accepts for the purposes of this application that the claimant must satisfy section 12(3) of the Human Rights Act 1998.

53. The witness statement to which I have just made reference is from Dr Joseph Whitfield. He is a Senior Lecturer in Hispanic Studies at the University. He has been employed there since 2017 and is active in the Cardiff Branch of the Universities and Colleges Union. He says that he has participated in numerous protests and demonstrations on and around the campus since 2017. At no point has he ever been aware of any requirement for protestors to have sought the consent of the University to organise or attend these events. He contends that it is simply never standard practice for the University to require this. Dr Whitfield says he is concerned about the broad scope of the order and the potential chilling effect that it may have. He is concerned in particular that it has the potential negatively to impact and prevent trade union activity. He also says he has attended many of the recent Palestine protests and has never found the behaviour of the protesters to be violent or unsafe. He says the statement is true to the best of his knowledge and belief.

54. Having set out the evidence and the core legal principles, I shall now address that evidence by reference to the factors identified in Valero. First, cause of action. In respect of trespass, a landowner whose title is not disputed is prima facie entitled to an injunction to restrain a threatened or apprehended trespass of the land (see High Speed Two (HS2) Ltd v Four Categories of Persons Unknown [2022] EWHC 2360 at paragraph 74). It is also well established that an entitlement to exclusive possession or actual possession itself is not required where possession is sought against trespassers (see Manchester Airport Plc v Dutton [2000] 1 QB 133). All that needs to be demonstrated by the claimant is a better right to possession than the occupiers (see Laws LJ at 150B to 152A of Dutton). The same rationale applies to injunctive relief (see paragraph 77 of HS2).

55. In the present case I have no doubt that the University has a better right to possession of the land sought to be protected by the injunction than do the defendants. The University is the freehold and leasehold owner of all of the injunction land, as detailed in paragraphs 10 to 13 of the particulars of claim. The University's title documentation for the land is exhibited in the evidence. In any event, the claimant is in control of those areas of land and there can be no realistic argument that the defendants have a better title to it. No member of the public has been granted a licence to be on the land. Insofar as those involved are students, none of the events detailed in the particulars of claim has been notified to the University or approved in accordance with the Code. They, therefore, constituted trespass upon the University's land. Indeed, I consider that the fact that the defendants have gone to such lengths to conceal their identity whilst unlawfully occupying the land shows full well that they know they have no right to be there.

56. The essence of the claim for private nuisance is that the acts of the defendants have wrongfully interfered with the claimant's use and/or enjoyment of its property. An unlawful interference with a claimant's right of access to its land via the public highway where the land adjoins a public highway can constitute a private nuisance (see HS2 in paragraph 86).

57. ELSC submits that the terms of the proposed injunction go beyond what is appropriate in respect of access to the claimant's land and public highway. The claimant will, says ELSC, only have an action in private nuisance where there is a "serious and unreasonable interference" with its right of access to the land (see Queen v Rimmington [2006] 1 AC 459). Not every protest which blocks the land, even intentionally, will be unreasonable. The example given is of a five minute prayer vigil on the edge of the land. ELSC also says that the claimant has a remedy in criminal law.

58. I am not satisfied that these objections have substance. In University of Cambridge v Persons Unknown [2025] EWHC 724 Soole J said this at paragraph 92:

> "As to private nuisance, I consider it necessary and proportionate to include an order which prevents people from deliberately blocking the access of individuals to these sites. I am not persuaded that this limited restraint of use of the public highway is unjustified. On the contrary, given the nature of the campaign and the imminence of the risk, I consider it to be a necessary adjunct to the injunction against trespass. As to vigils and the like, there are ample other places for these to be carried out. I do not accept > that in this or any respect the proposed injunction has the chilling effect which is alleged. Nor do I consider that the simple wearing of supportive and/or emblematic badges or clothing would put anyone at risk of breach of the proposed injunction".

59. The relevant wording of the proposed injunction in the present case is "directly block, obstruct or interfere with the access of any individual to the land with the intention of stopping that individual accessing the land". The words "directly", "intention" and "stopping" are, in my view, sufficient to exclude interference which is other than serious and unreasonable. Moreover, the court will have power to prevent any application for contempt that it considers to be justified. This is because of paragraph 12 of the proposed order.

Full and frank disclosure

60. The claimant contends that it has made full and frank disclosure. ELSC disputes this. At paragraph 8.21 of the claimant's skeleton argument we see this:

> "The University Land is private land. Articles 10 and 11 include no right to trespass upon private land and thereby override the rights of private landowners: Ineos Upstream v Persons Unknown [2019] 4 WLR 100, §36 (Longmore LJ); Director of Public Prosecutions v Cuciurean [2022] 3 WLR 446 (DC), §§40 to 50 (Lord Burnett of Maldon CJ) and London City Airport v Persons Unknown [2024] EWHC 2557, §8 (Knowles J)".

Paragraph 8.21.2 then says:

> "In any event, any purported interference with Article 10 and 11 rights (by virtue of the sought injunction) would be justified and proportionate".

Reasons are then given.

61. The ELSC submits that paragraph 8.21.1 is wrong in law. It relies on the judgment of the Court of Appeal in Rex v Hallam [2025] 4 WLR 33 at paragraphs 34 to 36:

> "34. Articles 10 and 11 did not confer on the appellants a right of entry to private property: see Appleby v United Kingdom (2003) Application No.

> 44306/98. Moreover, disrupting traffic has been held not to be at the core of Articles 10 and 11: see Kudrevicius v Lithuania (2015) 62 E.H.R.R. 34, at 91. However, we were not referred to any case in which the European Court of Human Rights (the ECtHR) has decided that a protester who commits an act of trespass thereby automatically loses their rights under Article 10 or 11 altogether. On the contrary, Steel v United Kingdom (1998) 23 September was a case involving "a protest against the extension of a motorway involving a forcible entry into the construction site and climbing into the trees to be felled and onto machinery in order to impede the construction works" (see the description in Taranenko v Russia (2014) Application No. 19554/05 (Taranenko), at §70). The expression of opinion was found to be protected by Article 10.
>
> 35. We do not consider that DPP v Cuciurean [2022] EWHC 736 (Admin); [2022] QB 888 (Cuciurean) at [39] to [50] assists us on this point. Cuciurean, which involved a challenge to prosecution and conviction (not sentence) for aggravated trespass, contrary to s. 68 of the Criminal Justice and Public Order Act 1994, did not determine the question of whether Articles 10 and 11 were engaged.
> 36. Although the appellants' activities were not at the core of Articles 10 and 11, we do not consider that their acts of trespass removed them completely from the scope of Articles 10 and 11. Rather, as in Trowland (at [74] and [75]), the fact that the appellants' expressions of opinion involved criminal trespass significantly weakened the protections afforded by Articles 10 and 11 (and so the weight to be attached to those protections when considering proportionality of sentence)."

62. The ELSC's case is that this alleged breach of the duty of disclosure is so serious that the claimant should in any event be denied the relief it seeks. I do not accept this proposition. It is the case that Articles 10 and 11 do not confer a positive right of protest on private land. So much was held in Cuciurean. At paragraph 45, the Divisional Court acknowledged that where denying access would destroy the effective exercise of rights under Article 10 and 11, then the possibility could not be excluded of a State being obliged to protect those rights by regulating property rights. Despite what is said at paragraph 35 of Hallam, there is, in my view, little actual practical difference between the two cases. The central point is that Articles 10 and 11 are not excluded even if the action involves trespass.

63. Paragraphs 40 to 50 of Cuciurean were cited in the claimant's skeleton and paragraph 45 is reproduced at page 111 of the claimant's authorities. It is perhaps the case that the opening words "in any event" in paragraph 8.21.2 might have been better phrased, but I was in no doubt, having read the claimant's skeleton argument and authorities before I had seen the submissions of the ELSC, that the claimant would need to meet the case at its highest for the purposes of this hearing and that the claimant would have to deal with the issue of whether the proposed injunction would disproportionately interfere with the defendant's Article 10 and Article 11 rights. I shall return to the issue of proportionality.

Sufficient evidence to prove the claim

64. The evidence of Ms Gilbert, Mr Bayley and Dr Sanderson, in my view, shows clearly that there have been repeated incidents of unlawful direct action. I can summarise these as follows. There was a particularly disruptive protest on 14th October 2024 which, as I have said, resulted in the suspension of students. That, importantly, has not deterred others from further direct action. On 19th February 2025, masked protestors blocked the road outside the Centre for Student Life and the Main Building. On 6th May 2025, protestors entered the Glamorgan Building and unlawfully occupied part of that building and concealed their identities and refused to identify themselves. They said they had done so as a protest at various alleged actions that remained ongoing and to remind Cardiff University that one could not stop the Movement for Palestine and that the group would not stop nor rest until Palestine was liberated. During the occupation, unauthorised access to the roof was effected in order to raise a Palestinian flag.

65. On 9th May 2025, the defendants set up, again, as in the previous year, an unauthorised encampment at Horseshoe Drive. They raised banners that made it difficult to gain access. As in 2024, the recent encampment at Horseshoe Drive has become a draw from external protests and individuals who I am satisfied are not members of the University. There have been reported exhortations in May 2025 for persons to join the protests. The defendants waited until the University had issued and served the present proceedings on 30th May 2025 before disbanding the encampment. However, on 1st June 2025, the defendants demonstrated what I consider to be their defiance by gaining unauthorised access to the Main Building, again to raise a Palestinian flag. On 2nd June, they announced that this was not the end, but, rather, that the group was more energised and committed than ever. They said, "See you over the summer". Also, importantly, I refer to paragraph 10 of Mr Bayley's statement which records a post by the protestors who said, "See you at graduation".

66. The claimants acknowledge that the disbanding of the camp at Horseshoe Drive following the commencement of the present proceedings could be said to show there is no need for injunctive relief. The ELSC submits just that. I consider, however, that there is at present a real and imminent risk of future unlawful direct action being undertaken by the defendants. The reasons for my conclusion are as follows. There remains a real and imminent risk of future unlawful action, because the present position needs to be looked at in the light of the previous incidents in 2023 and 2024, which involved the flouting of the Code and the Student Conduct Procedure. The actions in 2025, again, reveal a complete disregard for the Code. It is apparent that the conflict in Gaza remains ongoing. It is also apparent that the defendants perceive that the claimant has failed to meet the defendants' demands. There have been recent statements that the campaign is ongoing, with specific reference being made to the summer and to graduation. The defendants continue to conceal their true identities. There has been no positive engagement possible with the defendants this year, in contrast to last year. The defendants have announced that they are more energised and committed than ever before and continue to issue calls for support on social media and elsewhere.

No realistic defence

67. Leaving aside the important issue of human rights, to which I shall return shortly, I find that there is no defence with a real prospect of success. The stark fact is that the defendants have no right to set up an encampment on the claimant's private land and engage in unlawful direct action and dangerous activities, such as climbing on rooves and blocking access to the claimant's land. I have taken account of Dr Whitfield's statement filed by the ELSC. His statement that he has not been aware of any requirement for a protestor to seek the consent of the University to organise the actions just mentioned is, in my view, frankly, surprising. But even assuming that is his view, it is plainly contradicted by the witness statements of those who are officers of the University which are before me and who have specific responsibilities for matters concerning the running of the University and ensuring the safety of all who are on its premises. Dr Whitfield is understandably only able to speak from his own perspective as an academic. He is not, unlike the claimant's witnesses, concerned in the University's management. I do not, therefore, need to conduct any "mini trial" in order to conclude that the Code and the Student Conduct Procedure exist and are of direct and important relevance. I do not consider that there is any basis for the claim that the injunctions, if granted, would materially impact on trade union activities. There is nothing to suggest that the claimant would not give its express consent to any legitimate activities of this kind which were to take place on its land. But, in the highly unlikely event that this proved not to be the case, then there is a liberty to apply.

68. The defendants cannot be heard to say that because the claimant has tried and recently failed to engage with the protestors by other means, the Code has become a dead letter. I accept the submission that it is because the claimant values freedom of expression that it has taken until now to seek to enforce its rights in the interests of the University, its staff and students as a whole. I have taken into account the submission of the ELSC that others may be interested in supplying witness statements. The defendants have, however, been on notice of the application for the injunction since 30th May, albeit that the ELSC only became aware of the matter on 9th June. This court is not prepared to speculate as to what such statements, if they materialise, might say, but there is in any event an important safeguard built into the draft order which is directly relevant to this issue. Paragraph 3 of the draft gives any person served with or notified of the order the right on notice to apply to vary or discharge the order. Accordingly, if evidence were to come to light which the ELSC or anyone else considered to be relevant to the continuation of the injunction, they can seek to have it varied or, indeed, discharged

Balance of convenience/compelling justification

69. I consider the balance of convenience to be clear. If the injunction is not granted there is a real risk that the claimant will face more of what has happened in 2024 and earlier this year. For example, the graduation celebrations could not be held at Horseshoe Drive in 2024. They had to be moved to a new location. As well as financial costs, I am satisfied that that was disruptive and unfair to the University community. Open days were also disrupted in 2024. I accept the evidence that this raises serious reputational implications and may deter students of high quality from applying to study at the University. This has a significant reputational risk. Exams have had to be changed at short notice. From the evidence, it is manifest that the Main Building has facilities that are preferable to those which might be available at any alternative site.

70. The encampment at Horseshoe Drive in 2024 and 2025 has raised health and safety concerns, including for the occupants in terms of sanitation, but there have also been incidents involving the presence of others from outside the University. The occupation of the Glamorgan Building prevented access for others to use rooms within that building. Blocking entrances to the University's buildings has caused operational disruption and harm, as well as raising health and safety issues. Certain members of staff have had to take action in response to what they consider to be concerns for their personal safety. There has been a significant financial impact upon the University as a result of the unlawful actions.

71. I consider that the graduation days due to take place between July and October 2025 are of particular concern, given the statements of the protestors. A graduation event which includes, importantly, the celebration with family and friends following the actual degree ceremony is a hugely important day in the life of the student and, indeed, of the student's family. I shall have more to say about this aspect when I come to address the geographic extent of the proposed injunction. There are also open days planned for the next few months, as I have mentioned. These are also at risk if the injunction is not to be made. An open day is an opportunity to encourage the brightest and best to the University and, therefore, to uphold and maintain its reputation.

72. What then lies on the other side of the balance? Like Thompsell J in University of London v Clark and Others [2024] EWHC 2895 at paragraph 52, on the facts of the present case I find that there is no real detriment to the defendants. The Code means the protest gatherings will need to be planned in advance and permission obtained, but that is merely to require the protestors to act in a way designed to balance their right to express their views with the interests of others on the University's land. I also note the witness evidence that there are other places in central Cardiff where demonstrations and the like could and, indeed, have been held.

73. An important point about the Code is that consent for a meeting or other event is expressly stated not to be unreasonably withheld. One way of challenging an unreasonable refusal would be by way of judicial review. However, like Thompsell J, in the present case there exists, in my view, a much simpler and effective means of challenge; namely, for a defendant or the ELSC to come back to this court to request a variation or discharge of the injunction. Thus, the balance of convenience lies decisively in favour of granting the injunction.

Damages not an adequate remedy

74. I accept the submission that damages would not be an adequate remedy. The claimant's submission is that the financial loss that has already been suffered is substantial and there is no realistic prospect of recovery from persons unknown. The health and safety risks posed by repetition could potentially cause serious harm, for which damages would not be a full remedy. The reputational damage to the University and potential risk to education/examinations cannot be adequately compensated on monetary terms, nor, importantly, could the adverse effect on students or potential students if graduation ceremonies or open days were to be disrupted.

Convention rights

75. I approach this issue on the basis that the claimant must show that any reliance by the defendants upon ECHR Articles 10 and 11 would be bound to fail, because the proposed interference is justified and proportionate in all the circumstances of the case. In so doing, I apply the principles set out in DPP v Ziegler [2022] AC 403. So far as justification is concerned, it is manifest that the restrictions would be prescribed by law. This would be as a result of the court ordering them, pursuant to the exercise of its powers under section 37 of the Senior Courts Act 1981. The restriction would also be in pursuit of a legitimate aim; that is to say, protecting the claimant's property rights, as well as the rights and interests of the wider University community who are lawfully entitled to use the land.

76. So far as proportionality is concerned, I refer to what I have already said regarding the defendants' ability to operate through the mechanism of the Code, the potential to use places that are not on campus for the purposes of protest and the safeguards that would be available if the defendants consider that the Code is not being properly applied. I bear in mind that the meetings etc which the defendants might wish to hold would be directly critical of the University's stance in relation to the protestors' demands. That includes calling for the resignation of the University's Vice-Chancellor. Ms Stacey was able to tell me on instruction that these were not factors that could be expected to result in consent being unreasonably refused.

77. I have already referred to the witness evidence, which demonstrates there is, in effect, a presumption in favour of grant, when the mechanism of the Code is invoked. But if that should turn out not to be the case, then, again, the appropriate safeguards exist. I also take account of the fact that the protestors can and, indeed, have made significant use of social media, including the use of video messages such as those adduced in evidence at this hearing.

78. I have considered whether there are other less intrusive measures that could be taken, without resorting to an injunction. The ELSC submits that the claimant could and should have resorted to the Code. However, the obvious response to this is that it would not have been practicable to do so, given that the defendants have gone to great lengths to conceal their identities. The ELSC says that the notice to vacate Horseshoe Drive appears to be the full extent of what it describes as the claimant's self-help. The response to this is that it is no answer to an application for a quia timet injunction to say that the claimant should suffer the harm occasioned by an unlawful occupation and then seek to remedy it by means of possession proceedings. As for any suggestion that disturbances that threaten public order or access to land can be dealt with by the police, it is again no answer to suggest that the police should be called only after the harm in question has occurred.

79. I therefore conclude that there is a compelling need for the injunction and that there is no realistic defence based on the contention that the grant of an injunction would not be lawful and proportionate in terms of Articles 10 and 11.

80. I turn to the procedural requirements.

Identifying persons unknown

81. As I have repeatedly emphasised, the protestors have gone to extensive lengths to avoid being identified. Accordingly, the claimant has been unable positively to identify any defendant by name. In terms of persons unknown, this has not been possible as they have not yet carried out the threatened acts and it is not known who may attempt to do so in the future. The claim therefore identifies the persons unknown by reference to their tortuous conduct. The defendants are further defined by reference to geographical boundaries.

The terms of the injunction

82. The terms of the proposed injunction which identify the direct action are, in my view, clear and precise. Prohibitions are set out in plain words. They avoid using legal or technical language. They do not prohibit conduct which is lawful, nor do they prohibit lawful protest.

The prohibitions match the claim

83. I am satisfied that the prohibitions match the feared torts, as pleaded in the particulars of claim (see Canada Goose). I also refer to what I have said regarding the issue of private nuisance arising from action taking place on the public highway.

Geographic boundaries

84. I have had close regard to the need for the injunction to cover only the land in respect of which the requirements for the making of an injunction of this kind can be manifestly established. I have taken account of the submissions made by ELSC regarding the Music Building, the Abacws Building, the Trevithick Building and the Queen's Building. ELSC said that none of these buildings should be included. The starting point is that, in contrast to at least some other cases, including those concerning university injunctions, the claimant in the present case has expressly determined not to seek an injunction over the whole of the campus. I refer to the witness evidence. In part, I consider that this reflects the geographic reality of the Cathays Campus, which has a close physical relationship with the city of Cardiff. Some eleven buildings and associated land are sought to be made the subject of the injunction. This represents less than 20% of the total buildings of the University.

85. There must, nevertheless, be a real and immediate need, even in respect of these buildings. On the basis of the evidence of Dr Sanderson which I have set out at length and which I see no reason not to accept, I am satisfied with one exception that a case has been made for the inclusion of the buildings and related land. The case is made out on the basis that the buildings or land in question have either been the subject of unlawful occupation or other trespass, with the resulting harm described by the witnesses and with the obvious risk of repetition, given what I have said about risk; or that the building or land is so adjacent as to be at real risk of illegal displacement activity if other land is covered by the injunction; or that the building or land if occupied would materially impact upon graduation ceremonies and open days because of its proximity to the sites of those events; or that the land has real connections with organisations which are regarded by the protestors as linked with activities to which the protestors plainly take serious exception.

86. The land at Horseshoe Drive and the area between the Bute Building and the Glamorgan Building have particular importance for the graduation ceremony gatherings, to which I have referred earlier. Students, families and friends congregate on the area and use the backdrop of the main building for photography from Horseshoe Drive. The students robe for their graduation ceremonies at the Centre for Student Life.

87. The one exception is the Music Building. I agree with ELSC that this building should not be covered by the injunction. I ascertained at the hearing that it was included because of the grassed area in front of it. That area is considered to be at real risk of occupation, such as occurred last year and this year at Horseshoe Drive. It was considered by the claimant that there might be overspill from the occupiers of that grassed area into the Music Building. Unlike, however, the other overspill concerns, to which I have made reference, I do not consider that there can be said to be a serious risk of the Music Building being subject to occupation, given its nature and location, provided that the grassed area in front with its high value statue is included within the injunction. Therefore, the Music Building, but not the grassed area in front, should be excluded from the plan accompanying the proposed injunction.

Temporal limits

88. The claimant invites this court to grant an injunction to last until the end of the 2025/2026 academic year. That would be 31st July 2026. This submission is made on the basis that it is the period which can presently be shown to be reasonably necessary in order to protect the claimant's legal rights. The claimant submits that it is an appropriate duration in the context of the present case, having regard in particular to (1) the history of past direct action; (2) the nature and context of the underlying protest cause which is ongoing; (3) the future feared tortious activity which is directed towards University operations; (4) the volume and frequency of unlawful direct action; (5) the length of time that tortious acts have persisted; (6) the pattern of behaviour and the need to ensure that protection is in place during particularly vulnerable times of the year such as exam periods, graduations and open days; (7) the threats made in respect of future direct action unless all of the "demands" are met; (8) the serious and irreparable harm posed by a risk of repetition; and (9) the need to provide an adequate period of time of respite for the University community.

89. The University suggests that express provision should be included for the order to be reviewed prior to the expiry of that period in order to determine whether protection remained necessary at that stage. This would be in line with paragraph 217 of the judgment of the Supreme Court in Wolverhampton. ELSC submits that if an injunction is to be made it should be strictly time limited and it should cover only a very short period by way of interim relief until evidence in rebuttal can be mustered. I have already explained why I am not persuaded by that last point. The claimant has made out a case for a "final" order, always, importantly, remembering, as Ritchie J pointed out in Valero, that in this category of case a final order is never in fact in truth final. It will be time limited and subject to earlier termination if the court sees fit.

90. I consider that in these circumstances the order should expire on 31st July 2026, that being the end of the next academic year. That period reflects the pattern of protests over the past academic year and the threat to graduation ceremonies and open days over the summer.

Service and notification

91. The requirement to give effective notice as opposed to service was identified by the Supreme Court at paragraphs 167 and 230 to 231 of Wolverhampton. The draft order sets out, at paragraphs 6 to 11, the steps which are proposed to be taken to notify and bring to the attention of the defendants any order made and further documents in the proceedings. I consider those steps to be appropriate.

Review

92. I do consider that an express provision for review must be included in the order, as the claimants now suggest. I invite the claimant to provide a draft provision to this effect. On a related matter, I also require the recitals to the order to be amended in order to add an express reference to the claimants' obligation to the court to bring to the court's attention any material change of circumstances concerning matters within the scope of the injunction.

Right to set aside or vary

93. I am informed that the claimant is willing and able if necessary to provide a cross-undertaking in damages. I consider that such an undertaking should be given.

94. This concludes my judgment.

13 March, 2026 - 11:36:53 - #283314 - L14 (#283544)

At approximately 11:40hrs a group of 5–6 students entered the CSL and distributed leaflets that openly criticised specific employers attending the Spring Careers Fair. While the group remained calm, their actions were assessed as protest activity. Three students positioned themselves directly in front of the Esri stand and attempted to discourage engagement with the employer, causing discomfort to the representatives and breaching the student code of conduct.

Llinos engaged with the students, clarifying their right to free speech while emphasising that they could not interfere with the event. Following consultation with security, Llinos and Jade determined that the behaviour met the threshold for a potential injunction breach due to the leaflet content, targeted disruption, and distribution inside a university building.

CSSS staff then intervened professionally, requested that the students leave the building, and recorded the interaction using body-worn cameras. The students complied, continued distributing leaflets outside without further issue, and the situation remained controlled and did not escalate.

The protest will be held in a public space outside the university to avoid their injunction on student protests as has been inforced since June of last year. All are welcome to bring flags and banners, show support, and offer words through speeches and poetry.

Hi both,

Just wondered in relation to the above if there were any provisional plans yet for location etc? Will it be Main Building lawn or outside Glamorgan Building like recent ones?

I note that the injunction is currently until 31st July 2026 and have seen a great deal of reduced incidents as a result of it and was wondering if it would likely be extended?

Thanks,
Andy

Cardiff University Code of Practice on Freedom of Speech

Version Control

Version Number	UEB Sponsor	Approval Body/Officer	Date of approval
3.2	Chief Operating Officer & University Secretary	University Council

This document is available in Welsh.

For queries on this policy please contact:
complianceandrisk@cardiff.ac.uk

1. PURPOSE

1.1 This Code of Practice is issued in compliance with Section 43 of the Education (No. 2) Act 1986, which places a duty on the University to take reasonable steps to ensure that freedom of speech within the law is secured for students, staff, and visiting speakers[1]; it is also informed by Section 202 of the Education Reform Act 1988 which protects the academic freedom of academic staff.

1.2 This Code and our Event and Speaker Booking Procedure form our Freedom of Speech Code of Practice

2. SCOPE

2.1. In ensuring the active promotion of freedom of speech and academic freedom within the law, the University will take into account the following legislation:

- Section 43 of the Education Act 1986
  Which places a duty upon universities to take reasonably practicable steps to ensure freedom of speech on its premises.

- Higher Education (Freedom of Speech) Act 2023
  Which strengthens and extends duties on higher education providers to take reasonably practicable steps to secure freedom of speech within the law for staff, students, members and visiting speakers, and to protect the academic freedom of academic staff. The University will take into account the duties introduced by the Higher Education (Freedom of Speech) Act 2023 as they apply in Wales, while recognising that oversight and enforcement in Wales are exercised through Medr rather than the Office for Students (OfS).

- The Equality Act 2010 (including the public sector equality duty)
  That places duties upon public authorities to prevent discrimination on the basis of protected characteristics as set out in the Act. The University also has a duty to foster positive relations between communities.

[1] A "visiting speaker" means a person who has been invited to speak at the University by a member, Cardiff University student or University employee acting in their capacity as a member, student or University employee. It does not include a person who wanted or requested an invitation to speak but was not invited.

- Charities Act 2011
  That includes a duty placed upon charities to ensure freedom of speech within the law.

- The Prevent Duty
  Which places a duty under the powers of the Counter-Terrorism and Security Act 2015 on relevant higher education bodies to prevent students and staff from being drawn into support for or participation in terrorism.

- Other relevant legislation
  Which sets out criminal and civil limits on speech, including restrictions relating to hate crime, terrorism, public order, defamation, and offensive or harmful communications.

2.2. Academic freedom means the freedom of academic staff to question and test received views and wisdom, and to put forward new ideas and controversial or unpopular opinions, without placing themselves at risk of losing their jobs or privileges or reducing the likelihood of them securing promotion or different roles at the University.

2.3. Freedom of speech means the freedom, within the law, to express and impart ideas, opinions, or information.

2.4. This Code applies to all members of Cardiff University including students, staff, visiting speakers[2], honorary positions, Emeritus Professors and those engaged in business on behalf of the University. It also applies to external and third-party organisers making use of University premises.

2.5. For the purposes of this policy, 'staff' include individuals who hold honorary titles at Cardiff University (such as honorary lecturers and emeritus professors) where they undertake University-related activity or organise events within schools or departments.

3. POLICY

3.1. Cardiff University is committed to upholding freedom of speech and academic freedom as fundamental principles essential to its purpose as an institution of learning and research.

3.2. The University recognises that the free exchange of ideas and debate, including the expression of controversial or unpopular opinions, is vital to academic inquiry and democratic society. We will support an environment in which ideas can be lawfully expressed, challenged and debated.

3.3. Cardiff University supports the principle that staff and students benefit from a teaching, learning and research culture that pursues knowledge and values vigorous debate and will encourage open, rigorous academic debate as a core part of academic life.

3.4. The University is committed to ensuring that freedom of speech is exercised responsibly and within the limits prescribed by law. We will take steps to prevent unlawful speech, including speech that incites violence, hatred, unlawful discrimination, harassment, or any other unlawful activity.

3.5. Our approach to ensuring freedom of speech within the law will be guided by the following principles:

[2] Defined above

a) We will uphold lawful freedom of speech as a core democratic and academic value.
b) We will promote tolerance of differing views and perspectives.
c) We will balance rights where necessary, acting only to the extent that is lawful and proportionate.
d) We will ensure any restrictions are the least restrictive available and only implemented when required by law.
e) Any restriction on freedom of speech will be an exception, not the norm.

3.6. We understand that as a diverse community we will not always agree with each other and that protest may be a legitimate expression of freedom of speech. We will support lawful protest and the sharing of views, provided that such activity does not shut down debate or prevent others from expressing lawful speech, nor unreasonably disrupt teaching, learning, research, or the normal business of the University. No individual or group should be prevented from exercising their lawful rights to freedom of expression through disruption or intimidation. Expectations for the conduct of protest are set out in the University's protest guidance.

3.7. Cardiff University recognises that freedom of speech and academic freedom are related but distinct principles. Both form part of the University's legal duties under the Education (No. 2) Act 1986, the Higher Education (Freedom of Speech) Act 2023, and, for academic staff, the Education Reform Act 1988.

3.8. Freedom of speech applies to all members of the University community and visiting speakers. Academic freedom applies specifically to academic staff and researchers. The University will protect academic staff in exercising their academic freedom within the law - including their freedom to question and test received wisdom, advance new ideas, and disseminate academic work - without placing themselves at risk of dismissal, loss of privileges, or disadvantage in career progression. The University recognises that PGR students contribute to research, publication, academic debate, and, in some cases, teaching. In these circumstances, the University will uphold the principles of academic freedom in relation to those activities, within the law.

3.9. While freedom of speech protects a broad range of lawful expression on University premises, academic freedom is narrower in scope and relates directly to academic expertise and scholarly activity. The following distinctions apply:

- Expressions of political or personal opinion by students or staff are protected as freedom of speech where they are lawful.
- The freedom of academic staff to research, publish or teach on controversial or unpopular topics is protected as academic freedom.
- Events or speakers hosted on campus fall under the University's freedom of speech duties.
- Employment related protections for academic staff engaged in scholarly inquiry fall under academic freedom.
- The University will uphold and protect both freedoms in accordance with its statutory duties, ensuring that neither is restricted except where required by law and only to the extent that is necessary and proportionate.

We will protect academic staff in exercising their academic freedom within their area of expertise, ensuring they are not placed at risk of dismissal, loss of privileges, or disadvantage in career progression for the lawful expression of their academic views or the conduct of their scholarly activities.

4. PROCEDURES TO BE FOLLOWED BY STAFF AND STUDENTS

4.1. The Event and Speaker Booking Procedure must be completed by staff and students.

4.2. It governs all events and meetings held on university premises, including:

- Meetings or events organised by students and staff
- Meetings or events which are held on campus, off campus, online or hybrid.
- Meetings or events of the student union, their societies, and student groups taking place on university premises.
- Meetings or events organised by third parties using University premises for non-University business.

4.3. The Procedure does not extend to:

- Events held in premises managed by the Students' Union, which manages its own affairs under University Ordinances (Ordinance 13), and their own event and speaker policies, which are available on the University website at: https://www.cardiff.ac.uk/about/organisation/governance/charter-statutes-ordinances

- Visiting academics delivering lectures or seminars as part of a planned module, routine teaching sessions, or standard academic/operational meetings (including business as usual recruitment activities such as open days, and routine internal meetings supporting normal academic or business operations), unless the event meets the definition of a 'specified event/meeting (e.g. if the speaker or subject matter presents potential risks that require consideration). In such cases, staff must follow the approval process outlined in the procedure.

4.4. The Event and Speakers Booking procedure confirms that:

- the University's aim is to allow events to proceed wherever possible, reflecting our commitment to protecting Freedom of Speech and Academic Freedom within the law, while ensuring compliance with other relevant legal obligations;
- those organising meetings or events must follow defined timeframes, including submitting requests at least 21 days in advance and completing the Event and Speaker Booking Form;
- the responsibilities and decision-makers at each stage of the process are clearly identified, ensuring that the approval, assessment and classification of events is transparent, consistent and documented;
- the procedure ensures the University can meet its duty of care, by requiring organisers to provide sufficient information about the purpose, speakers, expected attendance and any potential concerns linked to the Code of Practice, enabling appropriate legal, safety and security assessments;
- Freedom of Speech is protected within legal boundaries, while recognising that this protection does not extend to speech or conduct that would amount to a criminal offence, including offences related to hate crime or terrorism;
- the University monitors the context of events held on campus or in its name, to ensure they align with relevant legislation, internal policies and the University's responsibilities to its staff, students, and visitors.

4.5. Role of the Students' Union – Events on Students' Union Premises

Cardiff University Students' Union (CUSU) retains responsibility for events and meetings held within premises under its control. In this context, the Students' Union is responsible for:

- maintaining and enforcing its own event and speaker procedures, including expectations of conduct for members, societies and affiliated groups;
- reviewing, investigating and addressing any concerns, complaints or instances of inappropriate behaviour arising from events held on its premises;

- monitoring compliance with its policies and taking proportionate action where behaviour falls below expected standards;
- ensuring appropriate notification or escalation of serious concerns or incidents to the University where these may have wider implications, in line with agreed reporting mechanisms;
- liaising with the University, where necessary, on matters relating to legal compliance, safety, safeguarding, and freedom of speech.

4.6. Role of the Students' Union – Events on University Premises
Where events or meetings organised by the Students' Union, its societies or affiliated groups take place on University premises, such events fall within the scope of the University's Event and Speaker Booking Procedure. In these circumstances, the Students' Union is responsible for:
- ensuring that event organisers comply with the University's Event and Speaker Booking Procedure, including submission of required information within defined timeframes;
- promoting awareness of expected standards of conduct and relevant University policies among participants;
- supporting the University in identifying and raising potential risks associated with events, including concerns relating to safety, behaviour or compliance with the Code of Practice;
- cooperating with the University in the review and management of incidents or complaints arising from such events, including matters relating to inappropriate behaviour;
- considering and, where appropriate, applying its own disciplinary or conduct procedures in response to inappropriate behaviour by its members, societies or affiliated groups, ;
- liaising with the University to ensure appropriate reporting, follow-up actions, and alignment with legal and regulatory requirements.

4.7. The University has also published additional guidance on expectations regarding legal protest and securing free speech which organisers should consult where appropriate.

5. PROCEDURES TO BE FOLLOWED BY THIRD PARTIES

5.1. All third parties wishing to use University conferencing facilities must comply with the Event and Speaker Booking Procedure and liaise directly with Cardiff University Venues and Hospitality to agree terms and conditions, fees, and associated costs.

5.2. Staff and students must not use the internal booking procedure to book events on behalf of third parties that do not have a University affiliation. University affiliation applies only where the event is:
- arranged by or on behalf of a School, College, or Professional Services department (with any associated costs met by that area);
- arranged by or on behalf of the University (for example, events organised or supported by the Vice-chancellors office); or
- arranged by or on behalf of a Students' Union-affiliated group or society (with costs met by the Students' Union, the society, or otherwise pre-agreed by the University).

Membership of, or involvement in, an external organisation (for example, serving on an organising committee) does not make that body affiliated with the University

6. CONDUCT

6.1. Every member or employee of Cardiff University has a duty to refrain from any actions or conduct that may undermine the lawful exercise of freedom of speech.

6.2. It will be considered a disciplinary offence for any member or employee of Cardiff University to act in a disruptive or intimidatory manner at a meeting or event, with the intention of preventing a speaker from being heard or obstructing the discussion or conduct of business for which the meeting is held. This also applies to any member or employee who aids or encourages such actions.

6.3. Additionally, if any such actions by members, employees or other persons involve alleged offences which could be breaches of the law, Cardiff University will assist the police in any subsequent criminal proceedings.

6.4. Members or employees of Cardiff University attending a meeting or event will be expected to comply with the rulings and requests of the Chair or any person authorised by the Chair. Such requests may include requests to withdraw from the meeting.

6.5. While respecting the right of peaceful demonstration members or employees of Cardiff University must not block access to or exit from a specified meeting, nor should they encourage or help others to do so. Additional guidance on expectations regarding lawful protest is available online.

7. COMPLAINTS

7.1. Students who wish to make a complaint about freedom of speech under this Code of Practice should follow the Student Complaints Procedure

At Cardiff Civil Justice Centre, 2 Park Street, Cardiff, CF10 1ET
The parties are reminded that if the Court requires a hearing bundle in hard copy it must be lodged not less than 5 days before the hearing (unless the Court has made a different Order).
Each party must, at least 5 working days before the hearing, file at Court their documents upon which it intends to rely by CE-File, and for litigant in person by forwarding the same (TOTALING NO MORE THAN 50 PAGES) to the following e mail address:
bpc.cardiff@justice.gov.uk
Important note: in the subject line of your response please display 'Urgent Hearing, date and time as well as party v party and case number' Example: 'Urgent hearing 12/5/20 smith v Jones cn:123456.
If the above is not complied with, there is a real risk that documents that have been filed will not be before the Judge in time for the hearing. In that event, the hearing is likely to be adjourned with an adverse Order for costs being made against the defaulting party.
The estimated time of hearing is given above. If the hearing is not concluded within that time, the hearing is likely to be adjourned to another date with a new time estimate being given.
Cases are listed in accordance with local hearing arrangements determined by the Judiciary and implemented by court staff. Every effort is made to ensure that hearings start either at the time specified or as soon as possible thereafter. However, listing practices or other factors may mean that delay is unavoidable. Furthermore, in some instances a case may be released to another judge, possibly at a different court. Please contact the court for further information on the listing arrangements that may apply to your hearing.

Hysbysiad pwysig
GWAHARDDEB YR UCHEL LYS

(rhif yr hawliad: KB-2025-CDF-000046)

Yn sgil gwrandawiad a gynhaliwyd ar 12 Mehefin 2025, gwnaed gwaharddeb (y "Gorchymyn") gan yr Uchel Lys ar 13 Mehefin 2025 sy'n gwahardd unrhyw un rhag gyflawni'r gweithredoedd gwaharddedig a nodir isod at ddibenion protestio ar dir yr Hawlydd sy'n rhan o gampws y brifysgol.

Mae'r Gorchymyn yn gwahardd y canlynol heb Ganiatâd (fel y'i diffinnir yn y Gorchymyn):

- mynd i'r tir (fel y'i diffinnir gan y Gorchymyn ac sy'n cynnwys y tir hwn), ei feddiannu neu aros arno at ddibenion protestio.
- rhwystro neu ymyrryd yn uniongyrchol â mynediad unrhyw unigolyn at y Tir (fel y'i diffinnir gan y Gorchymyn ac sy'n cynnwys y tir hwn) gyda'r bwriad o atal yr unigolyn hwnnw rhag cael mynediad at y Tir.
- codi neu osod unrhyw strwythur (gan gynnwys, er enghraifft, pebyll, gasebos neu offer cysgu eraill) ar y Tir (fel y'i diffinnir gan y Gorchymyn ac sy'n cynnwys y tir hwn).

Er mwyn osgoi amheuaeth, nid yw hyn yn gwahardd unigolyn sydd â Chaniatâd i fynd i'r tir hwn er mwyn ymuno â digwyddiad a gynhelir gan y brifysgol rhag gwisgo bathodynnau neu eitem(au) o ddillad sy'n dangos slogan(nau) a/neu symbol(au) sy'n hyrwyddo neu'n cefnogi barn wleidyddol, ac nid yw'n gwahardd unigolyn rhag cymryd rhan mewn digwyddiad â Chaniatâd a roddwyd gan yr Hawlydd yn unol â'r Côd (fel y'i diffinnir gan y Gorchymyn).

Ni ddylech wneud unrhyw un o'r gweithredoedd uchod naill ai eich hun neu drwy berson arall sy'n gweithredu ar eich rhan. Ni ddylech ychwaith roi cyfarwyddiadau, anogaeth na chymorth i rywun arall.

Bydd unrhyw un sy'n torri'r Gorchymyn yn dirmygu'r llys a gellir ei garcharu, ei ddirwyo neu gymryd meddiant o'i asedau. Y bobl yr effeithir arnynt gan y Gorchymyn yw Pobl Anhysbys sy'n cyflawni'r gweithredoedd gwaharddedig uchod yn rhan o brotestiadau.

Mae hyn yn golygu na ddylech wneud yr un o'r pethau hyn ar y tir hwn.

Os fyddwch chi'n gwneud un o'r pethau hyn, efallai y cewch eich anfon i'r carchar neu golli meddiant o'ch asedau.

Mae modd i unrhyw un y cyflwynir y Gorchymyn hwn iddo neu sy'n cael gwybod amdano wneud cais i'r Llys ar unrhyw adeg i amrywio neu ddiddymu'r Gorchymyn hwn neu gymaint ohono ag sy'n effeithio ar y person hwnnw, ond rhaid iddynt roi rhybudd o 72 awr i gyfreithwyr yr Hawlydd o'r cais hwnnw yn gyntaf. Mae'r Gorchymyn yn gwahardd y canlynol heb Ganiatâd (fel y'i diffinnir yn y Gorchymyn):
mynd i'r Tir (fel y'i diffinnir gan y Gorchymyn ac sy'n cynnwys y tir hwn), ei feddiannu neu aros arno at ddibenion protestio.
rhwystro neu ymyrryd yn uniongyrchol â mynediad unrhyw unigolyn at y Tir (fel y'i diffinnir gan y Gorchymyn ac sy'n cynnwys y tir hwn) gyda'r bwriad o atal yr unigolyn hwnnw rhag cael mynediad at y Tir.
codi neu osod unrhyw strwythur (gan gynnwys, er enghraifft, pebyll, gasebos neu offer cysgu eraill) ar y Tir (fel y'i diffinnir gan y Gorchymyn ac sy'n cynnwys y tir hwn).
Er mwyn osgoi amheuaeth, nid yw hyn yn gwahardd unigolyn sydd â Chaniatâd i fynd i'r tir hwn er mwyn ymuno â digwyddiad a gynhelir gan y brifysgol rhag gwisgo bathodynnau neu eitem(au) o ddillad sy'n dangos slogan(nau) a/neu symbol(au) sy'n hyrwyddo neu'n cefnogi barn wleidyddol, ac nid yw'n gwahardd unigolyn rhag cymryd rhan mewn digwyddiad â Chaniatâd a roddwyd gan yr Hawlydd yn unol â'r Côd (fel y'i diffinnir gan y Gorchymyn).

Bydd unrhyw un sy'n torri'r Gorchymyn yn dirmygu'r llys a gellir ei garcharu, ei ddirwyo neu gymryd meddiant o'i asedau. Y bobl yr effeithir arnynt gan y Gorchymyn yw Pobl Anhysbys sy'n cyflawni'r gweithredoedd gwaharddedig uchod yn rhan o brotestiadau.
Mae hyn yn golygu na ddylech wneud yr un o'r pethau hyn ar y tir hwn.
Os fyddwch chi'n gwneud un o'r pethau hyn, efallai y cewch eich anfon i'r carchar neu golli meddiant o'ch asedau.
